Atomic Blast Rocks Marines Like Quake

Shandaken And Esopus Firms Burn

Probe Underway In Heavy Loss

Two disastrous fires, one a $75,000 blaze at the C. C. Dunham Lumber Company, Shandaken, and a $10,000 conflagration at the A. R. Mott cold storage plant at Esopus marked the July 4 holiday season.

Hartman Dutcher, a neighbor, discovered the fire at the Dunham lumber yard about 11:45 o'clock Thursday night and summoned firemen. At that time the fire was in the moulding shed but it spread rapidly to other nearby sheds with such rapidity that assistance was summoned from Phoenixia, Pine Hill, Fleischmanns, Mt. Tremper, Big Indian and Allaben and both Woodstock and Olive Bridge was alerted to stand "by."

Building Not Wired
How the fire started remains a mystery, Mr. Dunham said today. There was no electricity in the building where the fire started.

Destroyed in the fire was a new Ford truck loaded with lumber which had been packed into the shed ready to go out today. Another truck was saved.

Flame Spreads
In addition to the warehouse in which the fire started several adjoining lumber sheds were destroyed as well as a quantity of lumber recently received by railroad stored in piles across the railroad from the storage sheds.

Included in the number destroyed was a large amount of knotty pine, roofing, mill work, doors, window frames, siding, flooring, framing and other finished lumber.

Approximately two-thirds of the plant was destroyed and all that remained today was the office and one shed in which was stored cement.

Probe Starts
An investigation was under way today to determine the cause of the fire. Mr. Dunham said he estimated his loss at about $75,000. The plant will be rebuilt.

One fireman, Fred Ashley, was overcome by smoke and taken to Margaretville Hospital for treatment.

So hot was the fire that the tar roadway at the plant melted for a distance of 150 feet adjacent to the plant. The office building was scorched and damaged.

Mott Plant Blaze
The fire at the Mott cold storage plant at Esopus was discovered on the second floor about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening and before it had been brought under control damage estimated at $10,000 had been done.

A member of the Mott family today said the fire had apparently started from defective wiring.

Hard to Fight
The fire was a hot and difficult one to fight but was confined to the second story in which a large number of wooden fruit crates were stored. A tin roof assisted the firemen in confining the fire.

County Will Participate In U. S. Alert July 12 to 19

This area will have an important part in Operation Alert, 1957, nationwide Civil Defense exercise scheduled July 12 through 19.

Major H. Edgar Timmerman, Ulster county director of CD said there would be two phases, public participation, which he outlined in detail, and the problem portion. The latter is to be explained in later news releases.

To Use Fire Horns
Major Timmerman said that the "Take Cover" signal would consist of a series of short blasts on fire horns in the city of Kingston and a warbling blast of three minutes in rural sections of the county, where possible.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF HOME-SEEKERS'
Mayor Frederick H. Stang cuts ribbon officially opening today the new uptown office of Home-Seekers' Savings and Loan Association, 235 Fair street. Looking on (l-r) are Dewese W. DeWitt, executive vice-president; former Surrogate John B. Sterley, president and Harry Halverson, director. Grand opening and public inspection ceremonies began at 9 a. m. today and will continue until 7:30 p. m. Inspection of the new office will continue Saturday from 9 a. m. through 4:30 p. m. Home-Seekers' also maintains a central office at 628 Broadway. The main office was formerly located at 10 Broadway, which is now closed. (Freeman photo)

Mediation Efforts Continue

25,000 Cement Force Made Idle at 56 Plants

A report from Albany today said the New York State Mediation Board was continuing efforts to arrange a conference between striking cement workers and plant operators.

In the meantime, an Associated Press story from Chicago revealed that supplies of cement tightened today in the east and south as a strike of 25,000 men cut output of the important building material by an estimated third.

8,000 Attend Fireworks Show

The week-long observance of the 50th anniversary of the Kingston Paid Fire Department was climaxed last night with a variety show and gala fireworks display presented by the Uniformed Firemen's Association at Dietz Stadium.

More than 8,000 persons attended the event and Fireman Hugh Greer, president of the association, indicated that the firemen plan to make it a yearly Fourth of July feature.

The speaking program included Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk, representing Mayor Frederick H. Stang, who was out of town and unable to attend; Chief James M. Brett and Fireman Greer.

The association president said the members of the paid department were "overwhelmed at the response to this show. We hope to make this a yearly holiday event and next year different arrangements will be made for the presentation of the acts (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5) ation board, who said efforts are being continued to bring together cement firm officers and the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union, AFL-CIO. Last Wednesday a spokesman for the union charged that producing plants in the state were steadfastly refusing to negotiate. Approximately 2,000 men are away from their jobs at plants in the Hudson-Catskill area, it was reported.

25,000 Are Idle
The Associated Press news report from Chicago said:

"The United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union said 12,000 of its 25,000 members are idle at 56 of the nation's 140 cement plants.

Walkouts have followed breakdowns in company-level negotiations in which the union has held close to a demand pattern of wage and fringe changes seeking a package of close to 20 cents an hour more than the industry's current $1.74 to $2.44 pay scales.

Further Spread Likely
A spokesman for the union said today that further spread of the strike appeared likely, but that settlements are expected shortly on the west coast, as yet little affected by shutdowns.

He said there has been no settlement with a major producer since that Monday with (Continued on Page 18, Col. 6)

U. S. Death Toll 262; County Slate Is Clean

Although Ulster county has been free of traffic fatalities so far in the long July 4 weekend period, the Associated Press reports that deaths in vehicular and other mishaps are running heavy throughout the nation—262.

A news dispatch from Albany said at least 15 persons have lost their lives in New York state as a result of accidents, nine in traffic mishaps. Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly has predicted that 30 more persons will die on the roads through Sunday midnight unless "each driver makes sure it doesn't happen."

Safety experts noted "an alarming spurt" in traffic fatalities as motorists throughout the nation jammed highways on homeward bound trips after July 4 holiday outings.

Estimated death toll for the long Independence Day holiday weekend is 535.

State police, the Ulster County Sheriff's Department and Kingston Police Department said their records were clear of fatalities, but took the occasion to issue caution warnings.

Four deaths in nearby sectors that figured in the New York state count were:

Cairo—Frederick W. Fritze, 24, Athens: car hit utility pole and trees Thursday.

Goshen—Corinthia Wade, 1, Middletown, automobile hurtled

Tornado Rips Ohio Town

Bryan, Ohio, July 5 (AP)—A tornado roared through the downtown section of this northwest Ohio town of 7,500 last night, leaving in its wake damages unofficially estimated at half million dollars.

It was witnessed by several persons, who said it was in the familiar form of a funnel-shaped cloud.

No Deaths
Authorities said no deaths or serious injuries were reported. Dipping from a heavily overcast sky at about 7:40 p. m., the twister cut a path through Public Square, causing severe damage to the Williams County Court House and a number of nearby business establishments.

The funnel-shaped cloud tore the clock off the courthouse tower and hurled it 500 feet down main street. The courthouse roof was virtually blown down and may have to be replaced, Sheriff Dan Zuver said. Asst. Police Chief Frank Beals said the tornado also damaged the J. J. Newberry Co., the National Store, Ringer's Drug Store, Ohlman's Department Store, Spugli's Paint Store and the Elder Hotel. The hotel's roof was blown off, Beals said, and roofs and glass windows in the others were damaged.

The tornado traveled from northwest to southeast, knocking down power lines, telephone poles and trees. Sections of Bryan were without light for several hours until lines were repaired.

12-Hour Weather Error Is Charged

By JAMES McLEAN

Cameron, La., July 5 (AP)—A verbal storm brewed today in devastated southwest Louisiana after Sen. Russell Long (D-La.) charged a 12-hour error by the Weather Bureau "led the people to stay here" the night before Hurricane Audrey ripped inland. Long made a three-hour tour of ravaged Cameron parish (county), where an estimated 700 persons died in the hurricane and its 20-foot tidal waves.

Charges Mistake

"The weather bureau made a mistake in not telling the people to get out the previous afternoon," Long said. "I want to know when the weather bureau discovered it was more than 12 hours wrong on when the hurricane would reach our coast, and what was done about it."

"I am going to find the answers," Sheriff O. B. Carter told Long: "A 10 o'clock forecast the night before said there was no reason for alarm, that hurricane Audrey would not reach our coast until the next afternoon."

Sees Whitewash Try
"The next morning we would have evacuated 80 per cent of our women and children. We don't keep women and children here."

Carter said the weather bureau tried to whitewash the way it tracked the storm.

Hurricane forecaster Raymond Kraft of the weather bureau commented:

Retail Merchants To Form Council Wednesday Night

Local and area retail merchants will meet in the court room of the city hall in Kingston at 7:30 p. m., Wednesday, July 10, to organize a retail merchant's council.

In making this announcement today, Clyde Wonderly, chairman of the retail merchant's committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, said that more and more merchants realize the need for aggressive cooperative action to maintain business volume and get a fair share of the new business from the expanding trading area.

This meeting follows a mass meeting of all retailers on June 5 at which proposed plans for the council were presented. At that time each of the four area retailers organizations were asked to consider the proposal and come prepared with suggested changes on July 10. It is anticipated that the retail merchant's council will be established as soon as all of the details can be worked out.

Wonderly stated that all retailers, members as well as non-members of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, are invited and urged to attend. "This is a positive program to promote all retailing in the entire area and should be supported by all retailers," Wonderly concluded.

Tractor Total Loss
The police report at 6:04 a. m. noted that the driver was trapped in the cab of the tractor, which was described as a "total loss."

Both Police Chief Raymond Van Buren and Deputy Chief Robert F. Murphy were at the scene along with officers Sheldon O'Rourke, John Frash and George Dougherty, and Sgt. Carl Janasiewicz. The officers, and others at the scene removed Washington, the driver, from the cab. Central and Cornell stations and the Wiltwyck Volunteers emergency unit answered the emergency call.

Three Accidents Reported

Trailer Truck Upsets On Wurts Hill July 4

Two persons escaped serious injury when a trailer truck overturned on the Wurts street hill early yesterday, another mishap Wednesday night at Broadway and Andrew street resulted in injury and an arrest on a drunken driving charge, and a man was injured last night in a two-car accident at Washington and Hurley avenues.

Pinned in Cab
Charles H. Washington, 21, of 59 Monticello avenue, Jersey City, who was pinned in the cab of the overturned truck, suffered injuries of the left side and William Series, 17, of 548 Grand street, Jersey City, who was riding with him, escaped with a scratch on the left arm and an injury of the right knee.

Both were treated at Kingston Hospital and discharged. Held as Drunk Driver
Burton Beesmer, 43, of RD 4, Box 292, Kingston, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated after the mishap at Broadway and Andrew street. He was represented by Attorney Hubert A. Richter in city court today, and City Judge Raymond J. Mino put the case over until July 15. John E. Gotelli appeared for the district attorney's office.

Fire department emergency help and an ambulance were summoned immediately after the report of the trailer-truck mishap on the Wurts street hill. A pole was cut off near its base, and the Central Hudson emergency unit was also called.

The police report at 6:04 a. m. noted that the driver was trapped in the cab of the tractor, which was described as a "total loss."

May Have Been Most Powerful

Brushfire Is Set On Distant Hills

Atomic Test Site, Nev. July 5 —A gigantic atomic explosion rocked entrenched marines "like an earthquake" and set fire to brush and trees on distant mountains today.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the blast could have been the most powerful ever set off in the United States.

The mighty weapon shook the surrounding desert and blistered the breaking dawn with a blinding flash.

Exploded Under Balloon

The marines were entrenched 5,700 yards from where the weapon was exploded beneath a balloon at an altitude of 1,500 feet.

In a telephone interview with the Associated Press, Brig. Gen. Harvey Tschirgi, commander of the Marine Brigade, said:

"It was pretty rough. Lots of dust. It shook us like an earthquake. I felt like I was on roller skates for a few seconds."

The general was in a trench 50 feet closer to ground zero than those of the 1,090 men in his command.

Gen. Tschirgi said there were some cave-ins in the trenches but that they were not serious.

Buried in Cave-in

One marine was buried by a cave-in. He is Pfc. Theodore Sturgeon, of 2018 Kraft St., St. Louis, Mo. It took 15 minutes to get him out. He was not hurt.

As the dirt began to cascade down upon him as he crouched in his trench, he grabbed a buddy and was able to keep his head above the earth.

The AEC said today's bomb could have had a peak power exceeding the largest device exploded here previously. It added that the power possibly could have ranged slightly below the former big shot.

Called More Spectacular

Veteran observers said the fireball this morning was more spectacular than any that they had ever seen.

The weapon, rated unofficially at between three and four times as big as the World War 2 atomic bombs which devastated the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, was suspended from a balloon 1,500 feet in the air.

As the tremendous blast went off a wave of heat enveloped News Box 13, miles away.

It was followed by a terrific concussion and shock waves which roared and groaned across the southern Nevada desert.

The explosion was the greatest and most spectacularly beautiful in the history of the 51 test explosions run off here.

The fireball writhed in green and red as it shot up through quickly rising, dirty black clouds.

A creamy, red wall of smoke spread across the desert around the stem of the mushroom.

Talked to Lord In Plane Ordeal

New York, July 5 (AP)—Atr Force Lt. David Steeves says he talked to the Lord to keep from losing his mind during his 54-day ordeal amid the snowy crags of California's high Sierras.

Steeves, 23, united with his wife and relatives yesterday, told newsmen how he managed to survive after parachuting 33,000 feet when his jet training plane exploded.

"I never lost my faith," he said. "I talked to the Lord. It helped."

"I had a lot of tough days. I think the worst of the situation was trying to keep mentally fit without panicking, and keeping the mind occupied. Just sitting for days and days and watching the sun rise and set affects the mind."

Steeves plummeted into the Sierra wilderness last May 9. He sprained both ankles on landing. They still are swollen. His only asset was his service revolver, which he used to fashion a trap and kill a deer. Even so, during his long, painful trek, he went without food for 15 days. He ate wild berries and dandelions.

Court Upholds La Marca Death For Kidnaping

Albany, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—Unless Gov. Harriman or a Federal Court intervenes, Angelo LaMarca, kidnap slayer of baby Peter Weinberger, will die in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison on the night of Aug. 22.

The state's highest court Wednesday upheld LaMarca's conviction of first-degree murder and scheduled execution for the week of Aug. 19. Sing Sing executioners customarily are on Thursday nights.

The Court of Appeals split 5-2 in deciding the case of LaMarca, 31-year-old mechanic and cab driver who kidnaped the infant from his Westbury, L. I., home last July 4 and abandoned him in a thicket along a Long Island road.

Other Decisions
In other decisions as it cleared its calendar and adjourned for the summer, the high court: 1. Allowed the showing of "The Garden of Eden" with a decision that the State Education Department had exceeded its censorship authority in banning the film.

2. Denied a motion to stay the ouster of the Rev. William Howard Melish from the pulpit of Brooklyn's Holy Trinity Episcopal Church pending further consideration of the issue next fall, but allowed the minister and his family to remain in the rectory.

3. Upheld first-degree murder convictions of Raphael Bonilla, 39, and Miguel Santiago, 30, New York city men who cut loose with pistols after their romances broke up. Bonilla is to be executed the week of Aug. 5 and Santiago the week of Aug. 12.

lions. Finding some rusty fishhooks in a deserted cabin, he used grubs for bait and was able to catch some fish.

Steeves said he read too, during his long struggle for survival—bits of old books and a couple of magazines he found in abandoned camp sites.

Wife At Side
At his side while Steeves talked to reporters was his blonde, blue-eyed wife, Rita, 21. Their 15-month-old daughter, Leisa, is with a relative in their hometown of Trumbull, Conn.

Also present were the pilot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Steeves.

Said Mrs. Steeves: "The day before Mother's Day I received a telegram informing me that David's status had been changed from 'missing' to 'dead'."

Father Kept Faith
The young officer's father said he never had given up hope. The elder Steeves, who also lives in Trumbull, said of his son:

"When he was 17 years old David hitchhiked to Alaska by way of California and Alberta, Canada. He is strong and healthy and resourceful. I knew he would come back."

Rita Steeves, when she got official notice her husband was dead, said she began to make plans to earn a living for herself and daughter.

"I figured these things come in life," she said. "I couldn't sit down and feel sorry for myself. I had to think of Leisa."

When news of her husband's rescue arrived Monday, Rita had been attending classes for a week at Bridgeport (Conn.) University. She was going to become a teacher.

Second Honeymoon
Now the young couple are going on a second honeymoon at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. After that, Steeves will be reassigned.

The good-looking, dark-haired lieutenant still wore the beard he grew during his long battle with the elements. It was only last Sunday that, after making his way through a three-mile mountain pass, he stumbled upon two campers. Authorities were notified at Craig Air Force Base, Selma, Ala. Steeves had been flying from California to his home base in Alabama when his craft blew up.

Steeves said he wrote down how the accident happened "so that people would know for future research."

He said he also wrote a long letter to his wife during his incredible trek, but that he tore it up when he came upon rescuers.

"I can tell her now," Steeves said, grinning broadly. "Why should I write to her?"

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 5 (AP)—The stock market resumed its general advance in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks were up from fractions to around 2 points. The market was higher at the start, resuming its rise of Wednesday when normally dull pre-holiday trading was anticipated by many.

Chemicals, aircrafts, non-ferrous metals, airlines and steels displayed a good collection of plus signs.

Leading rails were mostly ahead. Pharmaceuticals continued on the upside, selected issues of various kinds did well.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 70 cents to $186.00 with the industrials up $1.38, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were higher in moderate trading.

List New Paltz Equalization Final Rate 30

The final 1957 state equalization rate of 30 was established for New Paltz, according to the State Board of Equalization and Assessment announcement today.

Final rates for the village is unchanged from its tentative rate set last month.

Rates of 304 of the villages are the same as in 1956. Thirty-eight villages received rates higher than last year and three received lower rates as a result of changes in level of assessment.

Included in the list are the two highest state equalization rates in the state—125 per cent for the Village of Washingtonville, Orange county, and 122 per cent for the Village of Liberty, Sullivan county.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 5 (AP)—The stock market resumed its general advance in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks were up from fractions to around 2 points. The market was higher at the start, resuming its rise of Wednesday when normally dull pre-holiday trading was anticipated by many.

Chemicals, aircrafts, non-ferrous metals, airlines and steels displayed a good collection of plus signs.

Leading rails were mostly ahead. Pharmaceuticals continued on the upside, selected issues of various kinds did well.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 70 cents to $186.00 with the industrials up $1.38, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were higher in moderate trading.

WHERE FLU SWEEPS—The mysterious influenza—dubbed "Asiatic flu"—raging through the Orient has the U.S. Public Health Service and other health agencies speeding preparations for any large-scale outbreak in this country. Rush tests are being made of a new serum, which is not a cure but a preventive. The serum can be developed quickly in a culture of fertile hen eggs, now in ample supply. Complications accompanying the worldwide "Spanish flu" pandemic of 1918-19 accounted for most of the 20 million dead. The current virus is comparatively mild and not expected to be a great killer. Only half of 1 per cent afflicted—about 300 persons—have died so far. Newsmap shows areas affected and number of cases reported.

Lyonsville
Lyonsville, July 5—Lyonsville Reformed Church, the Rev. Richard B. Coons, pastor—Worship service Sunday at 11:15 a. m.

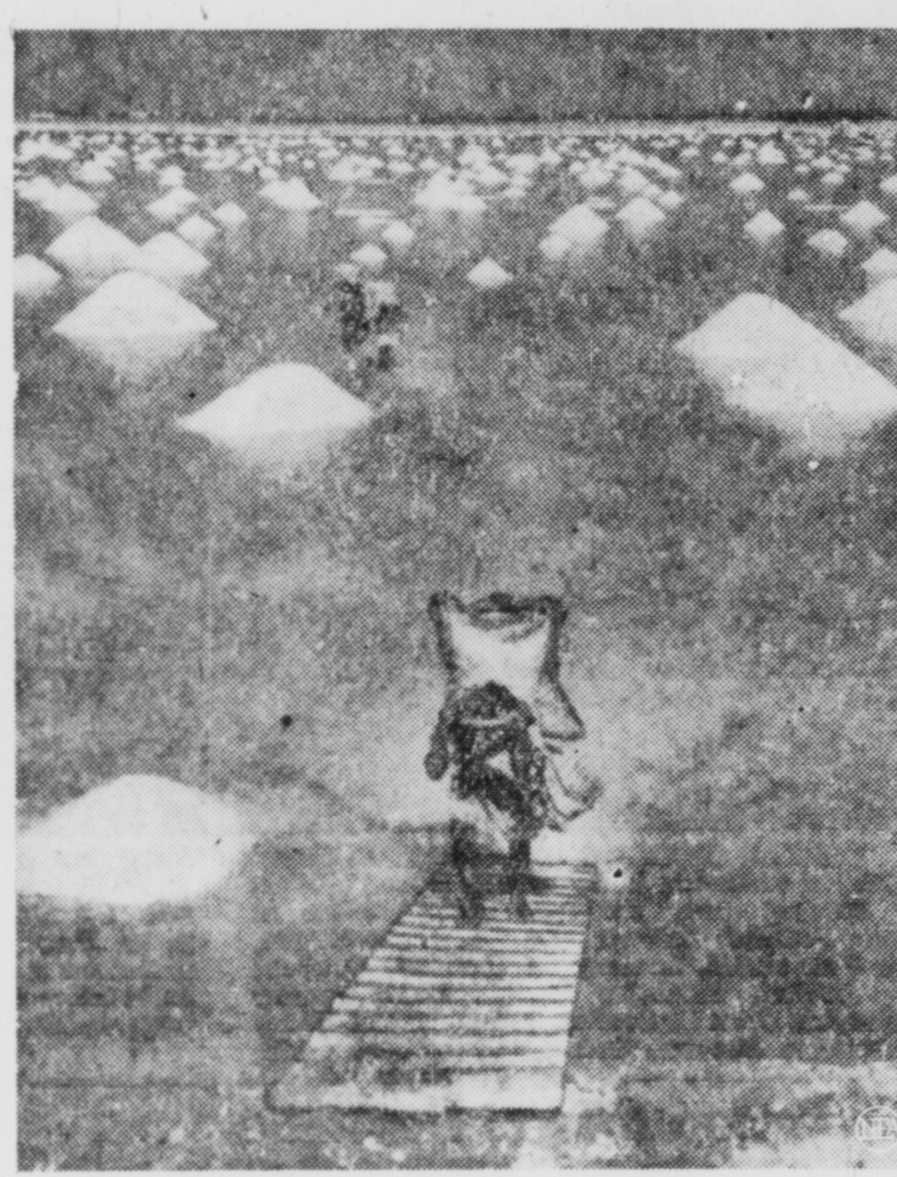

Next Sunday Communion services will be held. Mrs. Clyde Rosa and Mrs. Reynolds Cummins have completed the sale of cook books which netted $50. This sum will be used for additional hymnals for the church.

The consistorymen have set the date of the annual church affair for August 24 to be held at the Community Clubhouse. Full particulars will be announced later.

The Rev. and Mrs. Coons have been making several pastoral calls in this area since their arrival home from Florida.

Clover Tip
Denver, Colo. (AP)—Mrs. Harry Huffman says she's found the secret of growing four-leaf clovers. "If you let four-leaf clover go to seed, the seed just produces three-leaf clovers," Mrs. Huffman claims. "However, if you pick the blossoms, the plants spread their roots and up come new four-leaf plants." She has a bed of four-leaf clovers about 15 feet long.

SALT HARVEST—Bearing their burdens on their backs, Guajira Indian women trek across the sprawling salt beds during the annual salt harvest on the Guajira Peninsula, Manabura, Colombia. More than 2,000 Indians and their families take part in the harvest each year. The salt, which has been evaporating for 10 months under the hot tropical sun, is placed in 1,800-pound mounds by each individual family and carried to shore by the women in 100-pound bags. For each 100 bags they are paid about $10. These salt beds, in use since the 16th century, will yield some 42,000 tons of salt this year.

Briefly Told
Fort Edward, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—An election of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has been declared void and a new election set for next month.

These complaints were among those that led to the action, by vote of the membership: 1. Three candidates had not paid their dues. 2. Two of them were elected. 3. Two of those counting ballots were candidates.

Auburn, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—The body of a man missing since 1955 has been recovered from the Owasco outlet but police say the body was in the water less than six months.

The dead man found Wednesday was identified as Michael Busa, 43, who was reported missing by his wife Nov. 8, 1955. She later filed a non-support charge against him.

Police said they had no idea where Busa was between the time he disappeared and when he drowned.

Lakeport, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—Oneida Lake has yielded the bodies of a man and a boy from Syracuse drowned last Saturday when the aftermath of Hurricane Audrey swept through central New York.

The body of Lester Caldwell, 46, was recovered yesterday. That of Frank Jaeger, 7, was found Wednesday. The two were fishing from a small boat.

EGG-CENTRICITY—A new wrinkle in the art of egg laying is being developed by Mrs. Roy Cott, of Leavenworth, Kan., who holds a peanut-shaped specimen. The freak egg was sent to her by her mother, Mrs. E. R. Dixon, of Topeka, Kan., who got it from the nest of a white leghorn hen.

Graham Appeals For New Revival

New York, July 5 (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham says this nation "must have a spiritual revival that will put a new moral fiber in our country or we will be done."

Graham's subject last night before 16,000 persons at Madison Square Garden was "Where is America Headed?"

"We are now facing a moral deterioration that is going to eat out the heart and core of the nation," said Graham, adding:

"The same symptoms that were prevalent in Rome in the last days before its fall are now present in America."

The North Carolina evangelist chose his text from 2 Chron. 7:14.

"If my people which are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

New Paltz Area Methodist Notes

Schedule Communion

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered Sunday in New Paltz Methodist Church at both the 8:30 and the 11 o'clock services. The Rev. Willett Porter, pastor, will preside at both of these services, as well as at the worship services in Lloyd and Plutarch, at 9:30 and 2 p. m., respectively.

Mrs. William Schmalkuche, Jr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Trautwein will be at the organ for the New Paltz services, while George Meyer will be organist at the Lloyd and Plutarch services.

The announcement is also made that the care nursery during the 11 o'clock New Paltz service will be maintained throughout the summer for the convenience of parents.

Board Meets

The official board of the Methodist Church will meet Monday at 7:45 in the fellowship room of the church. It will be a short but extremely important meeting.

Lloyd Ladies to Meet

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church in Lloyd will meet Wednesday at 7:30, in the church hall on the New Paltz-Highland road. Mrs. Thurlow Wood, Jr., is the president of the society.

Slate Festival

An old fashioned country supper and strawberry festival will be held Saturday at 5:30 p. m. at Plutarch Church.

The Rev. and Mrs. Willett Porter will be deans of the forthcoming junior high youth institute of the New York Methodist Conference at Oakwood School, Poughkeepsie. Others on the faculty include Mrs. Walter Roe Jr., of Centerville; the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Guice of Ashokan and the Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Gilmour of Catskill.

A number of youth of the parish will also be attending one of the four weeks of summer youth institute.

Tobacco Research Chemist Dies at 63

Lancaster, Pa., July 5 (AP)—Funeral services were arranged today for Dr. Walter G. Frankenburg, a tobacco research chemist and developer of the homogenized tobacco process.

He died yesterday at Lancaster General Hospital after suffering a coronary occlusion at his home in nearby Millersville. He was 63.

A native of Nuernberg, Germany, Dr. Frankenburg came to this country and was employed at the General Aniline and Film Corp. in the research division. In 1940, he joined the faculty of Johns Hopkins University and in 1942, went into research for the General Cigar Co. here. He was named a vice president of General Cigar in 1953 and a director in 1955.

His development of the Homogenized Tobacco Leaf, a patented process, is credited with cutting production costs and permitting low price cigars. The process involves pulverizing tobacco leaves, rolling them and forming them into cigar binders. Dr. Frankenburg is survived by his widow, two sons, and a sister in Germany.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 5, 1957

GOVERNORS GUESS

Traditionally, the extracurricular doings at the annual governors' conference are always more important than the items on the agenda. And the extracurricular doings are always politics.

We are only half a year into President Eisenhower's second term, yet the talk at the recent Williamsburg, Va., meeting centered on 1960 presidential speculation.

There wasn't so much on the Republican side. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California said he wasn't going to run for either the presidency or the Senate (in 1958). Thus he indicated he would have another go at the governorship, whether or not retiring Sen. William K. Knowland enters the field.

Obviously such a race, if it actually came to pass, would have a substantial bearing on Knowland's prospects for the GOP nomination and on the future condition of the Republican party in California, second biggest state in the land.

The guessing was a bit livelier among the Democrats. One member of Congress, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts appeared to find favor with a good many governors, particularly from southern states.

Inevitably a lot of the governors in attendance heard their names bruited about, and a few of them gave the ball an extra swat themselves.

Those which cropped up most often were Govs. Robert Meyner of New Jersey, George Leader of Pennsylvania, Frank Clement of Tennessee and G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

By the time-honored political test of acceptability—willingness of all segments of a party to take a candidate—two of these four probably will have tough sledding.

Clement appears to have little standing with northern Democrats: Williams, heavily identified with CIO leaders in Michigan, may well prove unacceptable not only to the South but in wide areas of the North.

Meyner clearly would be a man to be reckoned with should he win smashing reelection this fall. Leader, a less positive type, can't run for re-election in 1958 and would have to capture a Senate seat to stay in the limelight.

Anyway, it's good to know that the boys are busy practicing the art they know so well—figuring the main chance.

UNIFORM TRAFFIC LAWS

That old bugaboo, lack of uniformity in state traffic laws is coming in for fresh attention.

In an NEA dispatch from Washington, Douglas Larsen highlights comment by a traffic safety engineer, Irving S. Markel, in statements to a congressional committee studying highway safety.

As a few samples of the dangerous discrepancies, Markel cites the fact that fewer than 25 states have compulsory inspection of vehicles to determine their mechanical soundness; that some states allow children 14 and 15 to drive, though normally they lack the maturity for the task; that all kinds of variations exist on speed limits, traffic lanes and rules affecting use of the road.

Markel believes the states never will voluntarily put a uniform code into effect and that therefore federal legislation is required to enforce it.

Perhaps Congress, in this investigation, ought to come up with a report that carries the unmistakable warning a federal club will be used if the states do not swiftly adopt the code. Surely we have had enough of these death-dealing discrepancies which leave motorists at a loss to know what is right as they cross from state to state.

Why is it that the two days before vacation seem to last longer than the two weeks with pay?

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE MALLORY CASE

Granted that a rapist is entitled to due process of the law, are not citizens entitled to juridical protection against rapists? Granted also that there may be a wide difference of opinion as to what should be done about Communists—should they be permitted to do their party work freely on the basis of the First Amendment or should they be prosecuted as spies and unregistered enemy agents—can there also be a difference of opinion about rapists?

It would seem to me that the Supreme Court, in its present mood, has done more harm by the Mallory decision which freed a rapist on such technicalities as to make it practically impossible for police to function at all. Is the Mallory decision to be applied to the mugger, the heroin pusher and the labor racketeer?

For what the Mallory decision says is, in effect, that the police may question a suspect as long as he is not under arrest, but the moment the culprit is arrested, it is "unreasonable delay" in arraigning him if the police use any time to make a case against him.

I wonder whether any of the Supreme Court brethren have any knowledge of police work. In the larger cities, the nature of felonies has changed radically from what it was half a century ago. Back in those days, burglary was one of the most serious felonies; crimes were usually against property.

Today, the prevalent crimes may be divided into three categories:

1. Psychological crimes, committed by teenagers, associated with sex, often involving rape and murder; 2. Crimes related to narcotics, often involving children of elementary and high school age; 3. Rackets, involving not only gangsters but reputable businessmen, lawyers, bankers, public officials, which arise from the prospects of earning untaxed or untaxable money.

The psychological prisoner is usually a teenager or a very old man who has gone nuts over sex and to whom rape and murder are outlets for an emotional build-up. It is found in the records that rape is a repetitive crime. The rapist will rape again if he gets a chance. Most often, he can only be caught by confession, because when a fellow commits a rape, he does not invite witnesses to watch him. It is done on a lonely road; in a cellar, on a roof top.

If a Congressional committee were to hold a hearing on this subject, the police of every city can produce records of denial for days, until confession comes, often with bragadocio. Without confession, the police usually do not have the slightest lead, except that a girl-child has disappeared as though in thin air.

Now the Supreme Court has told the police of this country that they must not question the suspect after he has been arrested, only before he has been arrested. In that case, the police had better drop the matter altogether. It has been experience that the psycho does not talk until the police get him down-town, as it is often called, put him through the "line-up," let him "tell it to the judge." No questioning at headquarters and no confessions.

The heroin and marijuana business is very big, running into hundreds of millions of dollars. Its centers of manufacture and distribution are Naples, Beirut, and Tientsin; its best market is the United States. The immediate felon is the pusher who may be your son earning an extra quick dollar to buy a black leather jacket or a motorcycle. Behind the pusher is the biggest organized crime syndicate the world has ever known, with powerful influences who are so remote from the crime itself as not to be conscious of association with it. The initial outlay requires millions of dollars; so this cannot be small business, but the pushing is done by boys, girls, candy-store peddlers, etc. Those who are "hooked" by the habit are ruined for life. It is slow murder, often producing degeneracy and insanity before death.

How do the police get arrests in such cases? By using the method the pushers use—by scaring the living hell out of boys, girls, candy-store peddlers, and such, so that they tell where they got the stuff. If they are not scared, they will not tell. If the children cannot be questioned after they are brought to police headquarters, it is all over. There is no case.

Vaccination, Attitude
Are Important in Polio

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

It is too soon to know just how much trouble polio will give us this year.

But there are two important things about it which everyone should know; the value of vaccination and the attitude one should take in the presence of possible symptoms of that disease.

The safety of the polio vaccine seems to be well established. Like other protective measures of a similar nature, vaccination does not guarantee that one cannot get polio. But the evidence is such that we feel sure it provides a considerable degree of protection.

Last year, for example, there was an outbreak of 1,111 cases of polio in Chicago. Of these, 835 developed the paralytic form of the disease. Two hundred eighty-five had received some Salk vaccine. 200 had had one inoculation only; 85 had received two. Not one victim had received the recommended full course of three correctly spaced doses of the vaccine.

TWENTY-FOUR of the 285 who received the vaccine did not get it until they were actually developing polio. It was also significant that in this epidemic 125,000 children had received the three inoculations by July 1, 1956, and one of this group developed paralytic polio.

There is no disease, perhaps, which strikes as much terror as polio. Parents should be on the alert but not give in to emotional fear.

THE FIRST SIGNS of the disease may be similar to those of any other infection: headache, low fever, dizziness, irritability, or other vague symptoms.

It is true that many children who develop such signs do not have polio. But if suspicious signs do appear, it is safer to pop the youngster in bed until one is sure about it. Slight stiffness of the neck is quite common in polio. However, parents should not make an imaginative child too conscious of the importance of a stiff neck.

THE PARENTS' responsibility is merely to watch for suspicious signs, keep the child quiet if they develop, and leave it up to the physician to make the diagnosis.

Preventive inoculation is recommended. But it should be remembered that the disease has not disappeared from our midst. Although prompt action is indicated on suspicion of the disease, many escape without paralysis or recover to a remarkable degree.

ment. But apparently there's no reason to worry. There is general agreement that it will come back to leadership when new talent has been developed and the old comedians have acquired some fresh ideas.

Comedy will always be the favorite entertainment vehicle for many people, possibly the majority. But devices and performers used to amuse audiences for too long a time eventually become boring.

You Don't Have to Be There, but Your Dollars Do

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington, (NEA) — When critics start kicking foreign aid around for being a give-away, they frequently overlook half a dozen of the smaller programs which do the greatest good.

All are so little publicized that they are not usually identified with the U. S. mutual security program.

As Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon points out, three-fourths of the 3.6-billion-dollar foreign aid program approved by the Senate and now before the House goes for military assistance and defense support. This contributes to free-world security, but it is for destructive weapons.

By contrast, the one-fourth of foreign aid broadly classified as economic assistance is constructive in nature. It includes the proposed new 500-million-dollar development loan fund, 250 million for presidential emergency funds, 150 million for U. S. technical assistance, and 145 million for nonregional projects.

INCLUDED IN THIS last category are the U. S. atom-for-peace program, the free-world malaria eradication program, international children's welfare, aid for Hungarian refugees and other migrants and escapees from Iron Curtain countries, ocean freight payments for private foreign relief shipments, U. S. guarantees for private American investments overseas and cooperation on UN technical assistance. The atom-for-peace program, launched by President Eisenhower before the UN in 1953, will cost an estimated seven million dollars in the fiscal year 1958.

Thirty-four countries are now cooperating with the U. S. on this effort.

It provides for training for foreign nuclear scientists in the United States and for U. S. payment of one-half the cost—but not over $350,000—to any country desiring to build its own research reactor.

Sixty nations are cooperating on the five-year campaign to wipe out malaria. This disease afflicted 200 million people last year and caused two million deaths. The American contribution to eradicating malaria is estimated at 23 million dollars for next year.

UNITED NATIONS International Children's Emergency Fund—UNICEF—started at the end of the war, last year reached 37 million of the 600 million children in the world who lack adequate food and medical protection. This aid was extended through 311 centers in 98 different countries.

The U. S. contribution for the coming years has been set at 11 million dollars.

For the resettlement of escapees from communism, other refugees, migrants and stateless persons, a U. S. contribution of 30 million dollars has been asked of Congress for 1958.

This includes: 5.5 million for U. S. aid to escapees 2.2 million for the UN refugee fund—UNREF—which is trying to move people out of refugee camps 12.5 million for Intergovernmental Committee on European Migration—ICEM—which is trying to resettle emigrants from overpopulated countries; 10 million dollars for Hungarian refugees. Last year the U. S. spent 40 million on Hungarian refugee movement alone.

THE UNITED STATES co-operates with 60 other countries in the United Nations Technical Assistance program — UNTA. The U. S. will contribute about 15 million dollars of the 35 million budgeted for this work next year.

UNTA recruits technical experts from all over the world for service in the less-developed countries. This helps reduce the drain on American technicians for foreign service.

The ocean freight program provides a million dollars to pay transportation costs on relief shipments sent overseas by U. S. religious, charitable and welfare organizations.

The investment guarantee program's purpose is to protect American investors in foreign enterprises from loss through political expropriation. Its administrative costs are only $25,000 a year. But guarantees have been written on over 500 million dollars' worth of investments in 31 foreign countries.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have been inquiring among lawyers for an explanation of the power of judges to throw citizens into prison for as long as five years for a crime called "contempt of court." These lawyers are called officers of the court and I gather that they are henchmen of all the judges even though they know individual judges to be lowdown shysters, drunks and ignoramus.

There was a classical example in Texas named Judge Bean, known as "The Law West of the Pecos," who, like our Supreme Court, made up his own law as he went along. Yet on his home grounds the profession of the law amiably regards Judge Bean as a useful "character" whose quaintness compensated the injury of individuals at his hand. That is, "society," or "the state," was compensated by this amusement. As for the victim, his hard luck was just the rub of the green. And Judge Bean was not intentionally vicious or maliciously political. He was just primitive.

The late general Hugh Johnson, lawyer though he was, belittled uproariously over the honorable court's remarks to Pedro Francisco Roberto Bernado Ruperto Jimenez Y Martinez in pronouncing sentence of death for the murder of a lady of casual habits. Judge Bean said spring would come, blue bonnets would ripple and curtsy on the plains, little lambs would gambol and the birds would carol and attend their young, but that "you, Pedro Francisco

Today in World Affairs

Soviet Ousters Held Move To Bar a Possible Revolt

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 5—The incipient stages of a social revolution inside the Soviet Union and within the satellite state, are revealed before the world today.

The inexorable laws of human nature—the inevitable pressure imposed by force—are working inside the Communist-socialist state, as an official communique from Moscow confirms.

The significance of what has just happened is not in the clash of personalities. It is not that three leaders have been kicked out and that another leader—Khrushchev—has gained in political prestige. The true meaning is to be found in the telltale phrases of the official communique itself, which again, and again speaks of the need for "incentives" and for the encouragement of the "creative energies" of the people.

For there is such a thing as "public opinion" in Russia—even though it may be potential in its threat rather than actual in its operation. This is illustrated by a remark once made by Joseph Stalin to the late Harry Hopkins, who was in Moscow as President Roosevelt's personal representative explaining the termination of the lend-lease program after the war. Stalin said something about the effect on "public opinion" and Hopkins looked skeptical, whereupon the Soviet dictator said: "Yes, we do have public opinion to reckon with in Russia."

Recognizes Forces

This is an important truism. For today the dominant party in the Soviet Union recognizes the tremendous forces at work underneath. These can blow up at any moment into a physical revolution. Hence the leaders in the Kremlin are striving now to make the concessions which they realize are necessary. Because Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich still cling to the idea that an iron hand is all that's necessary to enforce policies, they were removed from important posts so that, it is officially stated, "no one can longer engage in 'intrigue' and 'conspiracy'."

Somewhat prophetic was President Eisenhower's speech of June 24 before the Governor's conference. It was based on memoranda from the Division on Russian Affairs in the State Department, which has been keeping a close watch on events inside Russia. Mr. Eisenhower's exact words are worth re-reading:

"In the Soviet machine, political power is exercised through unbridled force. It is the scale of the machine, the last thing the Soviet dictatorship wants today is war. What it really wants is a contented nation, instead of a discontented, rebellious, angry mob of 200,000,000 people who can overnight throw out all the present rulers if the internal economic situation gets bad enough.

a drastic reorganization of its massive bureaucracy. Soviet rulers have felt compelled to allow some small part of government to gravitate closer to the people."

Analysis Confirmed

A comparison with the language of the communique just issued in Moscow confirms the President's analysis. For the Soviet document denounces the dissenters as having "demonstrated an overbearing attitude to the urgent, vital interests of the broad masses of the people."

The ousted leaders were accused, moreover, of failing to recognize "the necessity of increased material incentives for the collective farm peasantry in expending output of agricultural products." Such measures as "obligatory deliveries of farm produce by collective farmers from their individual plots" were denounced by the new leadership as undesirable and, in these matters, the expelled leaders were charged with having refused to see the light.

But actually the official communique is a broad confession of the failures of socialism and a recognition of the greater attractions of individual initiative and incentive.

Especially significant, for instance, was the language used in upbraiding the Molotov-Malenkov-Kaganovich group for opposing "this creative movement of the masses" which, the communique says, is in progress as "our country is going through a powerful rise in popular activity and a fresh surge of creative energy."

Called Alibi for Pressures

Undoubtedly this is wishful thinking, but it represents the new objectives. All through the document there are references to "new conditions" and "new situations," both internally and externally, which are merely an alibi for the tremendous pressures exerted on the Moscow regime by world events. Thus, the mentioning of "peaceful co-existence" with other nations and "the possibility of different ways of transition to socialism in different countries" are concessions to the growing revolt inside the satellite countries, where the fires of nationalism are beginning to be kindled anew.

When the Moscow rulers talk, as they do now, of "all-around consolidation of the socialist camp" or "better industrial management" or the "all-around encouragement of the initiative of the masses," along with "an abundance of food" and "large-scale housing construction," it is plainly evident that the last thing the Soviet dictatorship wants today is war. What it really wants is a contented nation, instead of a discontented, rebellious, angry mob of 200,000,000 people who can overnight throw out all the present rulers if the internal economic situation gets bad enough. (Reproduction Rights Reserved) ment of the United States is contemptible. Am I in contempt of the government for saying that?"

He said, "No, you can always criticize the government. Or the state of Illinois, for instance, or Congress."

"Contempt of Congress and grand juries is not actually contempt, but disobedience. This law should be changed because the more people we put in jail for contempt of Congress and grand juries and the longer we keep them there, the more we call attention to the contemptible character of Congress and some grand jury. The charge against people who take the First and Fifth Amendments should be disobedience. We do not know much about grand juries because they work secretly, like the Ku Klux, and I think it unwise for grand juries to attract public scrutiny because so many grand jurors are contempt risks. They tempt fate when they set themselves up as persons above contempt. Some citizens are just ornery enough to prove that they are in there pitching for undeclared interests by indicting opponents of those interests."

I said, "Old Weenie wrote that it was okay to harm a restaurant's business by placards calling the owners Fascists when they weren't. Would it be contempt of the Supreme Court to walk in front of the chamber in Washington with a sign reading 'this court is a gang of Communists and fellow-travelers'? Would I have a chance to prove it?"

He said, "Hey, why don't you quietly denounce Dave Beck now that he is down and out? Everybody else is. You might get a Pulitzer Award."

Route 209 is a busy highway; all day long cars speed by, heading up-state and down. But occasionally a curious traveler will stop to read the markers along the road—markers that tell of a more leisurely time when there were no automobiles and people were content to live out their lives in this beautiful valley. Here, on the banks of the Rondout, lay the Tom Quick Farm, purchased from the Indians in 1676; there stood the church where Tom's family and friends worshipped God. The original church was destroyed, and others after it, but today Tom's descendants attend services in the sixth one erected in its place.

At the Accord Furniture & TV Mart on Route 209 in Accord (just a short drive from Kingston) you will find on display reproductions of colonial furniture of which Tom Quick would have approved—beautiful copies in antique maple and cherry, made by Pennsylvania House. All at guaranteed lowest prices. Budget terms.

Visitors are welcome to browse through the Mart show-rooms daily from 9 to 5:30, Saturdays to 7, and on Sundays it's "open house" from 2 to 6. Closed Wednesdays during July and August.

BRIDGEMisplay Aids Poor Luck

BY OSWALD JACOBY

"My luck gets worse and worse," complained Hard Luck Joe. "Look what just happened to me. Diamonds broke 4-1 with the ace in the East hand and West held the ace of clubs. If I had gone after the clubs first I would have been all right, but I know I was right to attack the longer suit."

Joe was right to attack diamonds but he did not attack them the right way. He won the opening heart lead with his ten and led a diamond toward dummy. East won with the ace and returned a heart, whereupon Joe could only make eight tricks. Hard luck, but easily avoidable.

Joe had an absolutely sure play at his disposal. All he had to do was to lead a spade to dummy's ace and play the first diamond from dummy. On that play no combination of cards could hurt him.

As the cards lay, East could have gone right up with the diamond ace and led the heart. Joe would now make four diamonds, four spades and two hearts for a 10-trick total. If East played low Joe would go after the clubs. He would now make five odd because West held the club race. Change the cards around any way and he would still make his contract. Give West the diamond ace and Joe would have had time to clear both suits since West would not be able to lead hearts successfully when he got in with it.

Give East both aces with neither minor suit breaking and Joe would still make his contract since he would get in his four spades and one heart plus two tricks each in diamonds and clubs.

Dry Stagers

Greenville, Miss. (P) — The mocking bird, official bird of "dry" Mississippi, staggered, sang an off-key tune, fluttered to a boat under a persimmon tree and then repeated the per-

Mutual Savings Banks in State Top $20 Billion

New York, July 5 — The resources of mutual savings banks in New York State increased in May to more than $20 billion, for the first time, it was disclosed here today.

The banks' combined holdings of mortgages, bonds, securities, cash and other assets rose approximately $170,990,000 during the month to an estimated record $20,054,200,000.

A net increase in mortgage holdings of $73,268,000 was the largest single factor in the increase. Daniel T. Rowe, president of the Savings Banks Association of the State of New York, and President of the Highway Savings Bank, Brooklyn, cited the increase in mortgages as "underlining the savings banks' efforts to take care of the needs of New York State families for home financing."

The savings banks, Mr. Rowe stated, "continue to loan more mortgage money in the state than all other financial institutions combined."

OTHER ASSETS of the 128 mutual savings banks at the end of May, as estimated on the basis of figures supplied by 98 banks in the state to the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, were: U. S. government securities, $4,009,754,000, a decrease of $4,063,000; cash, $486,768,000, a gain of $13,292,000; State and municipal securities, $413,360,000, a drop of $192,000; corporate securities, $1,738,912,000, an increase of $44,745,000; other loans, $124,961,000, up $35,737,000; and other assets, $306,385,000, up $8,203,000. The value of mortgages held by the 128 banks at the end of May was an estimated $12,974,060,000.

The figures indicate that mortgages made up somewhat less than 65 per cent of the savings banks' total combined assets. U. S. Government bonds accounted for approximately 20 per cent of the banks' resources, and corporate securities 8.7 per cent.

EXCEPT FOR CASH with which to meet withdrawals, every dollar of depositors' savings in mutual savings banks is working to help build a better America," Mr. Rowe said.

"Savings must continue to provide capital to finance our nation's growth. On behalf of depositors, mutual savings banks use the money entrusted to them to add to the nation's homes, support governmental programs of defense, construction, and human welfare, and expand the quantity of goods and services supplied by private business.

"Deposits in savings banks work for the good of all the people," Mr. Rowe said.

The state's savings banks reported total deposits of $18,107,780,000 at the end of May, in almost 11 million savings accounts.

Shokan

Shokan, July 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Burgher and family of Oneonta were Sunday callers in the village center. Mr. Burgher is a son of Ira Burgher and he resided in South Olive as a boy.

The Wiese store and stock at Ashokan reportedly is for sale following the death last month of Eugene Wiese.

Mrs. Paul Miller of Woodland was a Shokan caller Wednesday. Mrs. Miller has been spending several weeks in her native Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. William Golden have opened up their summer home near High Point, formerly the Hamilton Ford property. The Golden previously rented the Rubin, or one time Jules Breucheaud stone house.

Attorney Roger H. Loughran and wife of Old Hurley were callers here Sunday.

Ira Holbrook and sister, Nellie Elmendorf, natives of this section, and Mrs. Benson Miller, all of Kingston are enjoying a vacation sojourn at Atlantic City.

The Rev. Harlan Kishpaugh, until recently of the Methodist parsonage in Olive Bridge, drove down from his new home at Summit, Schoharie county, Wednesday and called on local friends.

Charles Merrihew, retired Krumville farmer who died in Kingston June 27 as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident at Mt. Tremper three days earlier, was well known in Olive. Mr. Merrihew boarded in Shokan a few weeks last year. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Merrihew who for many years operated a large farm and boarding house.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., July 5—Since my return from the South, I have been making a study of Turnpike Bonds and other non-taxable investments. Casual readers of this column may not realize that non-taxable bonds are around their lowest prices for a long number of years. As an illustration, State of Massachusetts highly rated bonds carrying the full faith and credit of the State, free of all Federal and State taxes, which sold at par in 1950 can now be bought around 65. This is the lowest price in their history.

This decline is due to the constantly increasing interest rates of the past several years. There is no other logical reason. While the stock market has been climbing since 1949 (when the Dow-Jones Industrial Average was around 165, in contrast to today's level of around 500), bonds have been declining. Yet the bond market is just as susceptible to the Law of Action and Reaction as the stock market. When stocks are clearly in a bear movement and money rates decline, bonds will again go up in price. Therefore, non-taxable bonds may be in the position today that the blue chips were eight years ago when they were selling at a third of their present prices.

Certain banks and other institutions which are large bond buyers state that there are reasons other than increased interest rates why municipal bonds are selling so low. Due to the possibility of World War III, some of the savings institutions have been selling the bonds of large cities, especially industrial cities which could be targets for bombing. At the same time, these institutions have found it very difficult to sell the unlisted bonds of small cities and towns, even though they are perfectly safe and yield around 4 per cent income-tax-free.

What About Turnpike Bonds?

I believe Turnpike Bonds should be a logical exception to the above situation. They have both security and marketability. The conservative financial institutions say they do not like them because they are revenue bonds, dependent upon the earnings of the turnpike. Yet, every corporation bond is a revenue bond, depending upon earnings. The non-taxable feature of turnpike bonds, however, far exceeds the slight risk of declining earnings. Of all the turnpike bonds, one issue, secured by the West Virginia Turnpike which "starts nowhere and ends nowhere," has failed to make good. I admit that with rationing of gasoline in the event of World War 3, turnpikes would temporarily be in trouble; but so would most everything else. No bombing, however, could materially damage a modern turnpike.

Recently, the Boston & Maine Railroad canceled all its commuter business because of a strike by the maintenance men. It would take a strike of several months' duration by turnpike maintenance men before their services would be missed. Particularly the only necessary employees of a Turnpike Authority are those who collect the tolls. And I cannot imagine these men striking. Turnpikes are therefore less liable than most investments to suffer from labor troubles.

One of today's fastest growing industries is the automobile industry, and our turnpikes must prosper along with it. Not only are new cars put out by the millions each year, but boys in a very old Ford must pay the same toll as those riding in new Cadillacs! Everyone wants to save time, and also it is very much safer driving on a six-lane, modern turnpike.

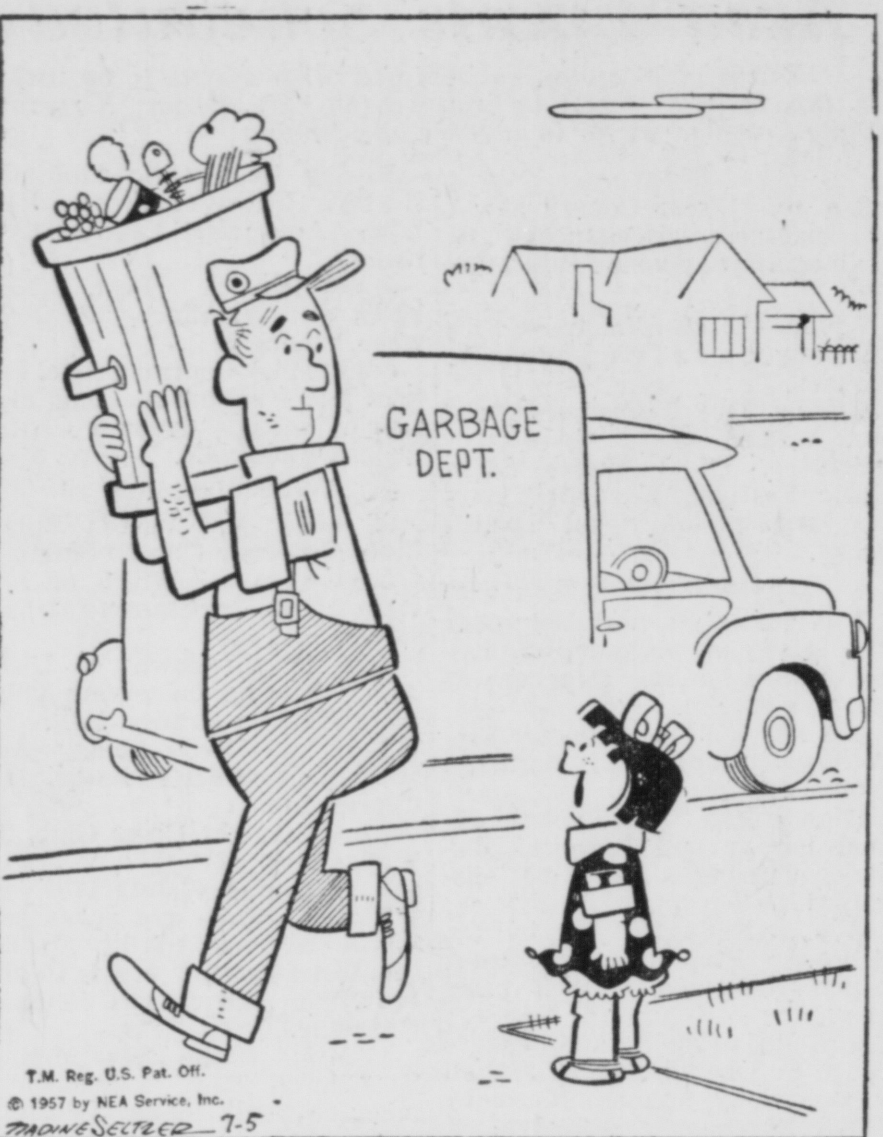

These turnpikes can never be built for less than their present cost. Therefore, the government in its new Road-Building Program, should be glad to take over any of these turnpikes and then pay the bondholders in full. I am also told that the present thought in Washington is to spend funds on widening and straightening present two-lane highways to make them four-lane and six-lane roads, rather than putting all the money into new turnpikes. Eighty per cent of the accidents today occur on the ordinary two-lane highways. Furthermore, most of these accidents occur on unnecessary hills and curves. The most inconsistent investors today are those who are buying taxable General Motors stock and refusing to buy non-taxable Turnpike Bonds!

Jackie Loses License

Mojave, Calif., July 5 (AP) — Actor Jackie Cooper, accused by highway patrolmen of speeding 140 miles per hour on a desert highway, has been fined $263 and had his license suspended for a month. The penalty, imposed in a Mojave court, included a 30 day jail sentence. The sentence was suspended. Cooper didn't appear in court. An attorney represented him. The actor's $12,000 sports car was halted at a road block near here June 23 after a 30-mile chase by patrolmen.

Record Premiums To Be Given Out At Dutchess Fair

Exhibitors at the 112th Dutchess County fair in Rhinebeck will share more than $21,000 in cash premiums—more awards and more money than offered in any previous Dutchess fair.

The fair will play for six days and six nights opening Friday morning, Aug. 23, and running through Wednesday night, Aug. 28.

There will be four days of horse shows, harness racing, dairy and beef cattle events every day except Sunday, three flower shows, and all the flavor of a big country fair plus entertainment for every member of the family.

The biggest block of prize money—$8,200—will go to the open Aberdeen Angus, Hereford, Holstein, Guernsey, Jersey and Ayrshire cattle exhibitors.

Exhibitors in the 4H clubs will share another $5,750.

There will be more than $1,000 distributed among subordinate and Juvenile Granges, about $1,300 in harness racing money, about $1,000 in the horse shows, more than $500 in the flower shows, $500 for poultry, $250 for vegetables, $750 for fruit, $750 for sheep, $330 for arts and crafts and $250 for field crops.

While some categories are open to Dutchess county residents only, such as poultry and fruits, many are open to exhibitors from outside Dutchess county. Prospective exhibitors may write to Box 142, Rhinebeck, for a premium book.

KERHONKSON NEWS

Kerhonkson, July 3 — Mrs. Morris Sims, who recently underwent surgery at Kingston Hospital, is convalescing at her home here.

Louis Fredd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fredd of Kerhonkson, was awarded a bachelor of science degree from Cornell University June 10. He was a student at the College of Agriculture and majored in fishery biology. Prior to the graduation ceremonies, Mr. Fredd was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Army Reserve, and will begin two years of active duty at Fort Sill, Okla., in September. During the summer months, Mr. Fredd will be employed by the New York State Conservation Department as a biologist.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Yeager were entertained by their children at Peg Leg Bates Saturday night on the occasion of their 26th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Leo Gazlay left for Syracuse Monday to spend a week with friends.

Mrs. Alonzo Grace and children of New London are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Myers.

John Morris Mustion, a senior at the Rondout Valley Central School, Kerhonkson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mustion of Kerhonkson, has been accepted at Syracuse University. He has earned a Syracuse Grant-In-Aid full tuition scholarship which is renewable for four years. He plans to enter the Liberal Arts program according to an announcement made by Roland A. Riegel, acting supervising principal. Mr. Mustion has been an active member of the chorus and band and he has received letters in football, baseball and basketball.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Phillips of Wawarsing visited Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Yeager Sunday. Charles Gaytos and son, Bobby, spent Saturday in New York city and visited Bobby's grandmother.

The Bridge Club met Wednesday with Mrs. Etienne Messinger. Present were: Mrs. William Douglas of Ellenville, Mrs. Archie Davis, Mrs. Albert Myers, Mrs. John Schoonmaker, Mrs. Millard Davis, Mrs. James Pengelly, Mrs. Arthur Chipp and Mrs. Maynard DeWitt.

Edward Friedman of Kerhonkson is one of four members of the Rip Van Winkle Council Explorers who will attend the Boy Scout Jubilee Jamboree in England from August 12 to August 18, after which the Scouts will tour a portion of Europe, returning here Sept. 4. Before leaving for England the Kerhonkson Scout and his traveling companions will attend the National Jamboree of Scouts at Valley Forge.

Darrell Raymond Johnson, a senior at the Rondout Valley Central School, Kerhonkson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Johnson of Kerhonkson, has been accepted at Delhi Agricultural and Technical Institute. Mr. Johnson, a former student at Ithaca high school, enrolled at the Kerhonkson high school at the beginning of his Junior year. He has been a member of the Dancing Club, Chess Club, Student Court, and he has received letters in football, and as basketball manager.

The Accord Home Bureau sponsored a bus trip to Coopers-town Saturday. Approximately 3 persons made the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson and children spent the weekend at their camp in Cairo.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Booth and son, Clifford, were in New Paltz to attend the baccalaureate service.

Jason Decker and fiancée, Mary Ann Russo, of Boston spent the weekend here.

Mrs. Bertha Addis has been ill. Mrs. Agnes Gidon of Hoboken has returned to Kerhonkson for the summer.

Mrs. Jack Gansley and Mrs. Agnes O'Conner spent the weekend with Mrs. Agnes Gidon.

On June 20 Mr. and Mrs. Henry Feinberg had a party in honor of their son, Van G., who celebrated his second birthday. Guests were: Leslie and Frank Green, Cathy Demarrias, Corinne and Jayne Feinberg.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office)

By JIMMY HATLO

Is there a ricer in your kitchen? Then rice boiled potatoes directly into a serving dish and top with thin slices of butter and a dusting of paprika. The potatoes stay fluffy this way.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I noticed the other day that they are widening the Rosendale road on the way to DeWitt Lake.

I do not know who is doing it, but they are taking down the stone banks. There is a cut through there, no doubt made when the road was first built. What interests me is, if they can do it there, why can't they do it in Port Ewen from the Rondout Creek Bridge so that folks do not have to walk in the man-made gutter, which is half round and not level. What I mean is, that when the Rondout Creek Bridge was first built, they had to construct a road up to it in Sleightsburgh, at which time they had to cut through that mountain of rock.

The bridge was constructed in 1921 and since then thousands of people have walked over that bridge, for there are sidewalks, on each side of the bridge for pedestrians. While you are on the bridge you are safe from cars, once you are off the bridge on the Port Ewen side, and you are between those high rocks, walking in the uncomfortable gutter you are constantly in danger from speeding automobiles, traveling in both directions.

For years many of us who either lived or had relatives or friends in Port Ewen walked there and back. The walk was fine in the village itself 'til we reached No. 13th School then we had to come down in the road. I have not walked there for years but the other day had the opportunity to walk and found that once I left the sidewalk of the school I came down on the private well-built driveway of Tropical Inn and also Carvel's Ice Cream place.

There is hardly a time one drives on that road that someone is not walking one way or the other, all wondering where it is safest from cars.

Port Ewen is growing out of the village class and is very much a part of Kingston in business ventures and residential homes, where many working Kingstons live. It is said, some 150 custom built homes have been built in Port Ewen in the past year or so, most of them of $10,000 value or more. So far, I do not see any look-alike projects. From time to time Port Ewen residents who need items which can be bought in Rondout could and would enjoy walking there, if there was a safe, and convenient walking area between the two places.

It seems in no time at all a bank will be added to Port Ewen's industrial growth to which customers will need to come several times a week. What is nicer than a walk during the pleasant weather. I would like to see those rocks at the bridge cut back, about five or ten feet above the ground to give a walking area wider than the bridge has and a good iron railing so that folks could walk up off the road and walk with comfort and perfect safety.

Years back most of the old timers walked and walked and so did we, but where can we today. In the old Skillyput days Port Ewen residents used to shop in Rondout and many of them thought nothing of walking up the Sleightsburgh hill.

No doubt if the officials of Port Ewen and Rondout got together with the state, or county, or whoever is in charge of that part of the road, they could have some sort of a practical walk made. I am sure many residents of both communities would take these walks just for the pleasure of it. Today we sit too much. We sit in cars, on buses, at the TV, near the radio. Without a chair we are lost. The only walking we do is at our jobs and that is usually in one little square.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert C. Winne, Mrs. Loren Buley and Mrs. Anna MacPhee visited Mr. and Mrs. James Bush at their home in Olive Bridge Monday night.

Larry P. Bishop attended the wedding of his granddaughter, Miss Francis Swift to Richard Miller of Long Island at Highland Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Anna MacPhee of Cliffside, N. J., is vacationing at the Uehlinger home in Cold Brook for six weeks. Mrs. Genevieve Atkins of Kingston, who usually spends her vacation with Mrs. MacPhee was taken to Kingston hospital ten days ago where she underwent surgery for acute appendicitis. Mrs. Atkins is 81 years of age.

Mrs. Loren Buley who has been ill is reported improving. Wallace Pach has opened his summer home on the Wittenberg road and is spending a few days there.

Shandaken Reformed Church, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor—Worship services 9:30 a. m.

The Sunday school picnic held in Riseley's pine grove Sunday was well attended. About 50 persons were present to partake of the hot dogs done to a turn by chef Ernest J. Gardner. The ball game, sack races and three-legged races as well as other contests were held. Prizes of games, balloons and ribbons were awarded winners of the various events.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle met at the home of Mrs. Grover Hedges on Monday afternoon to plan the buffet supper to be held in conjunction with the annual church fair Wednesday, July 24.

Paltz Man Is Held

In Alleged Shooting

Albert Angellio, 16, Clinton-dale, was treated at St. Francis Hospital, Newburgh, for shotgun pellets in his back and Thomas Ward, 28, New Paltz, was arrested by state police from Highland on a charge of assault, second degree, growing out of the alleged shooting. Ward, employed on the Joseph Moriello farm, was held for grand jury action by Justice of the Peace Patsy J. Conforti.

State police reported Angellio and two other boys were picking cherries Wednesday when ordered away by Ward. The youths ran and it is alleged Angellio was struck by pellets from a shotgun fired by Ward.

Four Men Charged Following Fight

Four men were charged with disorderly conduct following a fight staged Thursday at the Casa Perez at Plattkill and all were held in $100 bail each for appearance on Saturday before Justice of the Peace Charles Demsky.

State police from Highland were summoned after the men had been arrested by Vincent Porcelli. They were remanded to jail in lieu of the bail. Francisco M. Velasco Jr., 30, of Bronx, one of the four, later furnish bail but the other three remained in jail. They are Nelson S. Velasco, 27, of the Bronx, Rafael Velasco, 22, of the Bronx, and Orisil Pedro Matos, 27, of Bridgeport, Conn.

Time of a child's most rapid growth is 13.8 years for an average boy; 11.5 years old for the average girl.

Lions Program In Port Ewen To Destroy Weeds

The Town of Esopus Lions Club program to rid the Port Ewen area of obnoxious weeds such as poison ivy and sumac will get underway this week.

Residents who have such obnoxious weeds or vines on their property may contact members of the committee who will arrange to have them sprayed and destroyed.

Those to call are Herbert Klippel of Doris street; Everett Williams of Canal street and Basil H. Potter of Bayard street.

Speeder Pays $20. Two Due in Court

A driver charged with speeding was fined $20 in city court today and two others arrested on the holiday are due in court next week.

Nicholas A. Roberti, 16, of Box 12, Eddyville, who was arrested Wednesday on West O'Reilly street, by Officer Gurnsey Burger Jr., paid the fine.

Norman M. Feder, 21, of 52 Major street, Toronto, Can., who was arrested by Officers Harry Tempelaar and George Carpozou on Clinton avenue at 2:18 a. m., Thursday, is due in court July 8.

Kenneth McFarland, 18, of Cottekill, arrested by the same officers on the Boulevard at 1:10 a. m., Thursday, is due in court July 9.

William F. Walton, 17, of R.D. Kingston, arrested early today by Officers Gilbert Gray and Floyd Krom on Abel street, on a charge of possessing no operator's license, was fined $10.

Barbara Ackerly, 19, of Valley Inn, Rosendale, arrested by the same two officers on a charge of driving with "switched plates" was fined $10.

Man, Woman Hurt In Rt. 52 Mishap

Samuel Ginsberg, 67, 172 Minna street, the Bronx, lost control of his car Thursday morning on Route 52 near Ellenville, the car struck a guide wire and he was thrown from the vehicle.

He was taken to Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, and treated for lacerations of the scalp, abrasions and cuts of the back and arm. In the car was Sadie Ginsberg, 68, of 65 Tonnell avenue, Newark, N. J., who was reported to have possible fractured ribs. State Police from Ellenville investigated.

Queens Judge Dies

Islip, N. Y., July 5 (P)—Queens County Judge Alfred J. Hofmann, 57, died of coronary thrombosis today at his summer home here. About two weeks ago the judge, his wife, Florence; their daughter, Mrs. Mary Beth McGee, and their grandson, Dennis J. McGee, opened the Islip home. A native of Queens, Hofmann was graduated from Fordham Law School and served as a referee in bankruptcy for the eastern federal district before he was appointed a city magistrate in 1935. In 1951 Hofmann, a Republican, was elected county judge. He was the son of a police sergeant.

Meters Return $4,450

The city treasurer's office today reported $4,450 collected from the city's parking meters in June. This was $150 under the May total.

The use of finger bowls was introduced into America by Thomas Jefferson.

UNITY ISSUE—With the issue of two special "Europe" stamps, Switzerland is fostering the ideal of a European community. The design features a seven-stranded rope symbolizing the unification of the European nations. On sale July 15, the red and blue stamps are valued at 25 and 40 centimes.

BUG-EYED—Eight-year-old Michael Marecak, of Denver, Colo., may be a butterfly hunter with a cockeyed technique, but his unorthodox methods are invariably crowned with success. Subtly luring the unwary insect onto his nose, Mike stares the fly into submission and then with a quick swish of his handy net another butterfly winds up in his collection.

FLYING COURSHIP—Galloping full tilt across the steppes, an energetic man on horseback flails away at his mount trying to capture the fleeing female in front of him. The rough-riding event is called the "Kiz-Kuumai," or pursuit of the bride, and is one of the stellar attractions at the big equestrian festival in Kirghizia, Central Asia. Delivery Not Same Jameson, Va. (P)—The replica of Captain John Smith's sea chest may be a faithful copy of the original but its arrival here was quite a bit more modern. A helicopter delivered it for exhibit during the celebration of the 350th anniversary of the first permanent English settlement in America.

Portable Hospitals

New York (P)—The Federal Civil Defense Administration plans stockpiling fully-equipped portable hospitals. By 1962, a total of 6,000 such units may be available to provide emergency aid to as many as 2.5 million victims in the event of a major natural disaster or an enemy air attack. These van-transported emergency hospitals, equipped to handle 200 bed patients at a time, are being distributed throughout the U. S. Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, said that the portable facilities and supplies can turn a pre-selected empty school or church into a hospital within four hours, complete with its own water, power and light, three operating rooms, an X-ray room, a sterilizing room, a reception room and sorting room, laboratory, a pharmacy and medical needs sufficient to last 36 to 48 hours.

Gets State Post

Albany, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—Dr. William Haddon Jr. of Albany today was appointed director of the state's driver research and testing center. He succeeds Dr. Donald L. Toker in the $12,500-a-year post. Toker, a surgeon with the U. S. Public Health Service, has returned to duty in Washington. Haddon has been serving as an epidemiologist in the State Health Department. The research center is operated jointly by the health department and Motor Vehicle Bureau.

Turnkey Suspended

Plattsburg, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—Louis Brothers, turnkey at the Clinton county jail, has been suspended for 30 days for alleged carelessness in connection with the escape of a prisoner.

Eastern Co-op Is Against Any Strike Over Milk Order

Syracuse, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—The Eastern Milk Producers Co-operative Assn. Inc. has called on its members to refrain from any strike against the newly adopted New York-New Jersey milk marketing order.

In its monthly letter Wednesday to its almost 10,000 members, Eastern said a strike would be "doomed to failure before it starts."

If the cooperative's members should strike, Eastern said, the new milk order would die. In that event, it added, there would be no order.

"No farmer would be guaranteed any price. With sanitary barriers down, milk from all over the northeast would flood the market. Price cutting would run rampant. . . . The distress would control the milkshed," the letter declared.

In Allentown, Pa., meanwhile, G. A. Boger, president of the Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers, said he would not support payments into the pool under the new order unless ordered to do so by a court ruling.

Boger said his organization voted against the new order, which expands the metropolitan New York milk marketing area to include northern New Jersey and parts of upstate New York. He said that if his group complied with the order it would cost the 904 members a total of $284,000 a year—or $300 a member.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, July 5 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury as of July 1, 1957: Balance, $5,506,858,265.50; deposits fiscal year July 1, $312,845,888.78; withdrawals fiscal year, $380,788,800.89; total debt, (x) $270,522,389,216.30; gold assets, $22,622,676,715.79; x—includes $445,949,244.36 debt not subject to statutory limit.

LIFE OF THE PARTY—Actress Elizabeth Taylor, wife of producer Mike Todd, cats fish and chips during Todd's $50,000-plus party in London to celebrate the British premiere of his film, "Around the World in 80 Days." The gaudy affair almost ended in tragedy for the pregnant Mrs. Todd when a man fell against the table where the actress was sitting. The table struck her in the stomach and she screamed in pain. A few minutes later, however, she was completely recovered. (NEA Radio-Telephoto)

YOUR EYES ARE O.K.—You're really seeing threes. These triplet youngsters will be among many appearing at the 12th annual triplet convention at Palisades Amusement Park, N.J., July 16. At bottom, left to right, are five-year-old New Jersey triplets Carol, Bernadette and Lynn Slota. The middle row has nine-year-olds Nancy, Ellen and Lynn Nudelman, of New York. In the back are Joseph, Douglas and Robert Murtagh, also New York nine-year-olds. Mothers of triplets who want to enroll in the Mothers of Triplets Assn. can get details by writing to the amusement park at Palisades, N. J.

Checking 'Generals'

Washington, July 5 (AP)—Movie actor Jimmy Stewart and 10 other air force reserve officers nominated in February to be generals faced a new checkup today before the Senate decides on confirmation. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), who has been questioning top air force leaders about the promotion list, has asked a new detailed report on participation by Stewart and the others in reserve activities during the first half of this year. She says air force records show few of the 11 nominees have performed the peacetime training required of other lower ranking reserve officers for promotions. Her complaint has delayed action on the nominations.

WC Church Wins Trophy

Nearly 7,000 at Saugerties View Parade and Fireworks

Nearly 7,000 people lined the streets of Saugerties to view the annual Fourth of July parade Thursday morning and many thousands assembled at Cantine Memorial Field to witness the giant fireworks display.

Prior to the fireworks display Kay Moose, Miss Saugerties of 1957 and her attendant Marian Swart officiated at the trophy presentation to the winner of the float contest, St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp. Second place was won by Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW and Auxiliary and third place went to Imperial Council 16, Daughters of America.

Vols Wins Trophy

The C. A. Lynch Fire Company was awarded the trophy for the best senior marching units and St. Mary's Camp Fire Girls won the junior award.

The West Camp float was a scene showing the Palatine refugees who founded the West Camp church in 1710 at one of their services in the historic church. John Engelin of Cemen-ton, who portrayed the preacher in the scene accepted the $75 cash first prize award and the trophy. West Camp will have to win the trophy for two more years in order to gain permanent possession.

Second prize was $50 and third $25. Each of the other floats entered received $10 for participation.

As a special added attraction Miss Saugerties selected the winner of the $1,000 savings bond presented to Miss Evelyn Wilkesmann, 50 Franklin street, Kingston, by Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the 1957 celebration.

Floats Entered

Other organizations entering floats were Sunday school of Atone-ment Lutheran Church; Young Adult Civic Council; Centerville Fire Company Auxiliary; Woodstock Motor Club; Saug-erties Fish and Game Club; Ki-Nun-Ka Camp Fire Girls; Catholic Youth Organization; Lions Club; and the 40 & 8 engine of Kingston.

The floats were judged at Barclay Heights, assembling point prior to the parade. The judges included Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fite of High Woods; Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough of Kingston; and Mr. and Mrs. East Jordan of Poughkeepsie.

The musical units furnishing cadence for the marchers included Saugerties Drum Corps, Father Harty Drum Corps, Port Ewen Junior Drum Corps VFW Drum Corps of Kingston; Boy Scouts Drum Corps of Kingston; Mt. Carmel Drum Corps of Poughkeepsie and Salisbury-Lakeville Band of Connecticut.

Jets Salute Parade

During the parade through the village five F-86D U. S. Air Force Sabre jets of the 329th Fighter Group from Stewart Field saluted the marchers and they made numerous passes over the line of march.

Holley R. Cantine, grand marshal in the lead car followed the VFW Color Guard.

Miss Saugerties, official town emissary of good will and her two attendants Rosemary Gatti and Miss Swart offered their regal appearance in the second division representing the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce.

Barbara Dennis, Miss Loyalty of 1957 graced the float of the Saugerties Memorial Post and Auxiliary, VFW in the third division.

New York (AP)—A whimsical warning accompanied a gift to the cast of "Long Day's Journey Into Night" from Lord Mayor Robert Briscoe of Dublin. The Eugene O'Neill drama includes copious on-stage imbibing (the whiskey being just colored water) by several of the players. After seeing the hit, Briscoe sent a case of the genuine Irish pota-tion to the actors. Attached was a note: "For off stage use only."

Globe Reclaimed

New York (AP)—Another Broadway theater has been re-captured for the stage instead of movies. The Globe theater has been bought by a partnership for $1,200,000. The group plans to spend another half million in refurbishing the 1,500 seat auditorium. The Globe was built by Charles Dillingham in 1910, played numerous stage hits be-fore bowing to the great movie craze in 1931.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

THE SCAPEGOAT

By Daphne du Maurier

348 pp

In this book by the well-known author of "Rebecca," "My Cousin Rachel" and others, there is suspense, excitement and a finely drawn picture of present day life in a beautiful, decaying old French chateau and of the various people who lived there.

As the story opens two men, one, John, an English professor of French history at a London University, holidaying in France; and the other, Jean, the Comte de Gue, returning from a business trip to Paris, meet in a brasserie in Le Mans and, looking into a mirror behind the bar, realize that, in appearance they are exact duplicates of each other.

It is a bit of a shock to both. However they spend the evening together in a cheap hotel where the Comte has taken a room for the night. John, the historian, tells of his loneliness and lack of any family ties at all, and of his desire to enter into and become part of the lives of other people. The Comte, on the other hand, burdened by debts and the cares of too much family, sees in John a chance to escape from it all. He manages to slip knockout drops into John's drink and, when he passes out puts him to bed in his room, exchanges their clothes, valises, wallets, passports, etc., and goes away in John's car.

Awakened next morning by Gaston, the Comte's chauffeur, for whom the Comte had telephoned to come and get him, John finds he has completely changed his identity and is obliged to assume the role of head of the Comte's household. Arriving at the chateau with Gaston, John meets his family, one by one. First there is his brother, Paul, who scolds him for not letting his family know when he would return. Then he meets, in the salon, blonde, once-pretty, pregnant Francoise, who also scolds, and dark, pretty Renee, who seems to be on his side.

FROM THE SALON he ascends the stairs and enters a large, overheated, overfurnished room and there is warmly embraced by Mme La Comtesse, a large, commanding figure who, by her startling resemblance to himself, could be no other than Jean's mother. Also in the room is the tall severe woman, who had left the salon when he entered and who now completely ignores him. He learns from the conversation that this is his sister, Blanche. John wonders what he could have done to so deeply offend her. Others in the room are the Cure and the Countess' personal maid, Charlotte, who follows him out into the hall and warns him that the "present" he brought for the Countess from Paris must be given to her at once. Another mystery is in the strange, almost terrified way the Countess acted when she feared that he had not brought the present.

In fact these presents which were found in Jean's valises caused a lot of confusion and embarrassment. There were two more surprises that night when John learns that Francoise is his wife and that he has a precocious, charming little daughter of ten years (Marie-Noel) who idolizes her father. Plenty of family ties for him now.

NEXT MORNING John visits the family glass foundry. There he is deeply impressed by the loyalty and industry of the workers, by their dependence upon their jobs for their livelihood; and by Julie who takes him to her dilapidated cottage and gives him coffee and sugar from her slim hoard. Julie toils uncomplainingly in the gardens and cares for her son, badly burned in a foundry accident. She is a perfect example of a good French peasant and, by far, the strongest character in the book. From her John learns something of the meaning of the deserted mansion with the dry well beside it which point up a page of the past war, revealing the bitterness and cruelty of the Resistance Movement and real or fancied collaborators.

John cannot tell these good people that because he has failed to renew the contract in Paris (for which reason Jean had just been there) the foundry would have to close. Instead he boldly announces that the contract had been renewed upon favorable terms and then proceeds, by telephone to renew the contract upon ruinously unfavorable terms, just to keep the foundry running.

Now he is completely committed to carry on the family affairs.

He is accepted without question by all except the dogs—and one other. This last for a very peculiar reason.

ONE BY ONE family secrets and family cares reach out and claim him. John finds himself with two mistresses and an imaginative little imp of a daughter who leads him a merry chase. He escapes many pitfalls by very close margins.

Then tragedy strikes. Francoise is accidentally killed by a fall from her high bedroom window. This causes a complete change in the family fortunes, since by the terms of the marriage settlement, which John had previously read, Francoise's large estate can now be released to her husband and to her daughter. Having grown to know and to love his family John proceeds to outline better lives for each. To his mother, release from her secret vice and restoration to her former place as head of the household. To Blanche (the secret of whose mysterious antagonism he has solved) restoration to her former position as designer at the foundry and a home of her own. To Paul and Renee, a chance to travel and understand one another better. And so on all down the line, each according to his deserts and abilities. And for himself a firm determination to never, never leave the chateau.

A newspaper account of the death of Francoise brings the Comte back into the picture—with surprising results.

Movie Starlet Killed

Billy the Kid, Wyo., July 5 (AP)—A promising career of movie starlet Judy Tyler, 24, was blotted out in a head-on collision of two automobiles at this southern Wyoming roadside hamlet. Fatally injured was her bridegroom of less than four months, Gregory Lafayette, also 24, a television actor of Hopewell Junction, N. Y. He died in a Laramie, Wyo., hospital a few hours after the Wednesday night crash. Miss Tyler, who just completed the lead role opposite Elvis Presley in the movie, "Jailhouse Rock," was killed instantly as was Donald D. Jones, 23, of Hanna, Wyo., riding in the other car.

Juvenile Delinquents

Most children coming before juvenile courts of the United States are between 15 and 17 years of age, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

COVERED WITH WATER—This aerial view takes in part of the business district in Valley Park, Mo., as flood waters of the Meramec river spread over a wide area. Swift flowing waters were receding on July 3 after cresting at 32 feet, 18 feet above flood stage. The ram-paging river forced the evacuation of families from homes in low-lying areas and blocked traffic on four major highways. (NEA Tele-photo)

Rotary-Kiwanis Speaker Would Amend Child Law

Pointing out that idleness leads to trouble, County Investigator Arthur H. Brown of the Ulster County Sheriff's Office speaking before the combined meetings of Rotary and Kiwanis, suggested that one answer to juvenile delinquency might be to amend the child labor laws to allow youngsters to participate in some types of work.

The speaker, a member of the local law enforcement agency for sometime, chose the topic of juvenile delinquency because in his opinion it was a matter of grave circumstance. Figures quoted indicated a million juvenile delinquents in 1956 and the prospects of this number increasing to 1,800,000 by 1960.

One of the causes of juvenile delinquency was cited by Mr. Brown as being the moral breakdown of adults, and he indicated that the best way to combat this cause was for adults to "set a good example" for the younger generation. Another factor found in the increase of trouble among the younger set was judged as the home environment which was not what it should be.

Suggests Remedy
A remedy for the situation, Mr. Brown indicated, could be the opportunity for young people to work and thus use up the excess energy which oftentimes leads to trouble. He also pointed out the idea that "a dollar is worth more if you earn it than if it is given to you"—and this opportunity to work would emphasize the dollar-earned thought.

Mr. Brown revealed that only

VFW County Council Will Meet Sunday

A regular meeting of the Hudson Valley Counties Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held Sunday, July 7, at 2:30 p. m.

The meeting has been scheduled for the VFW Post Home, 552 Delaware avenue.

A large attendance of members is anticipated.

14 cities in New York state maintained juvenile bureaus for the handling of juvenile delinquency. This he indicated was far too little in the face of an increase since 1940 of 102 per cent in federal cases involving juveniles.

The local picture was portrayed as fairly good by the speaker, who touched on some local cases which could have led to disastrous results but which had been dispatched before they became serious.

Announcements of coming events for both service clubs included a July 29 date when the Kiwanis Club will sponsor Christiani Bros. Circus at the Dietz Stadium grounds, and August 19 when the Rotary will hold its annual barbecue at the Beatty farm on the Hurley road.

Unscheduled Events

Roanoke, Va. (AP)—Twelve-year-old Johnny Grove was one of 185 boys here who went to Washington to take part in a Safety Patrol parade. He visited the capitol, climbed the stairs to the top of the Washington monument and saw all the sights. His father, Dr. John P. Grove, asked what he enjoyed most. "The pillow fights," was the reply.

Red Army For Purge

London, July 5 (AP)—The Red Army today publicly endorsed Nikita Khrushchev's purge of the Kremlin's old-guard Stalinists.

The Soviet army newspaper Red Star charged the "antiparty bloc"—of V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov—of playing into the hands of the "enemies of our state—the imperialists and aggressors."

The army's endorsement came as no surprise, since Marshal Georgi Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister and dominant figure in the Red forces, was elevated to full membership on the Communist party Presidium at the same meeting which ousted the four Stalinists.

U. S. State Parks

There are 2,030 state parks in the United States, an increase of 18 per cent in the past five years, and these are capable of accommodating nearly 200,000 overnight campers.

All Facts Promised To Public on Shooting

Camp Lejeune, N. C., July 5 (AP)—The commanding general of the Second Marine Division has promised that all facts will be made public when a board of inquiry completes its report on the fatal shooting of a marine from Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Brig. Gen. A. R. Brunelli made the statement Wednesday in connection with the death of Pvt. Gilmore Romagnola, 17, shot by a guard Monday.

The guard, who was identified as Pfc. John Dye, 20, said Romagnola tried to escape while he was being escorted to the base brig.

Romagnola was being held on charges of being AWOL, breaking restrictions, striking a non-commissioned officer and having no identification card in his possession while away without leave.

Gen. Brunelli said:

"As soon as the board of inquiry, which is the highest investigative body that can be convened in the naval service, completes its report all facts will be made known to the public. The court is proceeding as expeditiously as possible."

Hugh Cullen Dies

Houston, Tex., July 5 (AP)—Hugh Roy Cullen, 75, oilman who earmarked over 160 million dollars for philanthropy after building a tremendous fortune with a pet theory, died last night after a three-month illness. Cullen struck many a gushing oil well by drilling deeper in areas major companies and other successful independent operators had abandoned. Before his death Cullen wrote checks for nearly 60 million dollars in gifts. He also pledged the Cullen Foundation over 100 million based on future income from oil properties. The University of Houston, the greatest beneficiary, has received an estimated 30 million dollars.

C. E. Palmer Dies

Texarkana, Tex., July 5 (AP)—C. E. Palmer, 80, owner of newspapers and radio stations in Texas and Arkansas and a philanthropist particularly interested in character education of youngsters, died last night. He suffered a stroke at his home and was pronounced dead at 7:50 p. m., shortly after arrival at St. Michael's Hospital. Arrangements for funeral services had not been decided early this morning.

Named President By State Jurors

Edwin W. Ashby, Ulster county commissioner of jurors, was elected president of the New York State Commissioner of Jurors Association this week at Chautauqua where the annual meeting was held. He will serve for the ensuing year.

Elected first vice-president was Mrs. Laura M. Sweeney of Fulton county; second vice-president, Joseph V. Dowler of Nassau county; secretary, Percy B. Morton of Broome county; Wesley H. E. Newman of Herkimer county.

Mr. Ashby has served as supervisor from the fifth ward, Kingston, and since March 1954 has been commissioner of jurors of Ulster county. He was vice-president of the State Commissioner of Jurors Association last year.

The New York State Commissioners of Jurors Association will meet on September 26, 27, and 28 at Lake Placid in conjunction with the meeting of the New York State County Officers Association.

Separates Made for Each Other

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

New York — (NEA) — Many women are not very sure of themselves when it comes to assembling separates. They like them, to be sure. They realize that they can stretch a wardrobe through mixing and matching.

But when the time arrives to mix or match, the results can be fairly disastrous. That's how it happens that a ruffled nylon blouse emerges in company with a wildly flowered circular cotton skirt.

These two should never even speak, let alone keep company. Or, even if top and skirt somehow happen to be tailored, the top will prove to be a violent pink and the skirt green, yellow or turquoise blue.

For the woman who makes such mistakes (and we all tend to, at times), the best solution lies in buying separates that were made for each other.

We show here just such separates. Evening blouse (left) is black lace in spun orlon, is worn with flared white skirt of orlon. Blouse plunges at back, has covered-up look at front.

All-white look is lovely (right) in blouse-and-skirt ensemble of matalasse orlon, Dacron and rayon. Top-over style blouse is loosely shaped to the waist and buttoned in back. Skirt is curved at the front and given bow trim. Both ensembles are by the French designer, Givenchy.

FIRST NAME CALLING

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a young housewife twenty-four years old. I have been raised to address elders as Mr. and Mrs. Most of my new neighbors are five to ten years older than I, so I don't know whether first names are permissible. Most of the neighbors seem to use first names and take the attitude that I am unfriendly because I call them Mrs. They in turn call me Mrs. Smith. I prefer my given name Mary. Also in my church discussion group the members are from my age to forty-five. Everyone uses first names. Yet I feel disrespectful calling a woman twenty years older by her first name. Should I use first names unless I feel the people prefer Mrs. I don't make friends too easily and I hate to lose a future friend because they think me stiff and formal. Please give me some rule to go by.

Answer: You should not call your new neighbors by their first names until they call you "Mary" and even then you should ask one a generation older, "May I call you Jane?"

A House Guest's Tip

Dear Mrs. Post: Some time ago we had visitors who spent a week with us. When they left they tipped the woman who works for us, because they felt that they had made extra work for her. Some of our friends claim that the hostess and not the visitors should have given the housekeeper something extra and to have the visitors do this is an insult to the hostess. What is your opinion?

Answer: Far from being an insult to the hostess, it is a long-established custom that a guest who stays overnight or longer tips a household maid.

When One Forgets a Name

Dear Mrs. Post: What does one do when forced to introduce someone whose name you can't remember?

Answer: This has long been a most embarrassing situation and often there is nothing else to do than to say frankly, "You know? I have forgotten your name."

Names on Birth Announcements

Dear Mrs. Post: When filling in cards announcing the arrival of a baby, which is the proper way to write the parents' names? Would it be Mr. and Mrs. John Smith or are first names used? If the latter is correct, does the husband's or the wife's name come first?

Answer: Better than Mr. and Mrs. John Smith for a birth announcement would be John and Mary Smith if the cards are written by Mary, and Mary and John if John writes them.

Details for planning your wedding are included in Mrs. Post's booklet No. 501, "Etiquette of Weddings," which includes suggestions for the announcements, ceremony, reception, clothes and expenses. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Tanglewood Opens Season Tonight

The first orchestral concert of the 1957 Berkshire Festival will take place tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Theatre-Concert Hall at Tanglewood, Lenox, Mass. Charles Munch, music director of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, will conduct a chamber orchestra of symphony players in an all-Bach program. Soloists will be the pianists Seymour Lipkin and Lukas Foss. The program will open with the Suite No. 3 and the Brandenburg Concerto No. 5 with Lukas Foss performing the piano solo. Doriot Anthony Dwyer, principal flute of the orchestra, will be soloist in the Suite No. 2, and the program will close with the Concerto for Two Pianos in C minor with Seymour Lipkin and Lukas Foss, soloists.

The six concerts of the "Bach-Mozart" series will be given during the first two weekends of the Festival, the remaining concerts of the present weekend (Saturday, July 6, and Sunday, July 7) devoted to the music of Bach, and the second weekend (July 12-13-14) to the music of Mozart. Charles Munch will conduct all six of the concerts. In response to the increased interest in these concerts, two will be given for the first time in the 6,000 seat Music Shed instead of the Theatre-Concert Hall seating 1,200. The Bach concert of Sunday afternoon, July 7, will be devoted to the second part of Bach's St. Matthew Passion. The soloists will be Adele Addison, soprano; Florence Kopell, alto; John McCollum, tenor; and Donald Gramm and James Joyce, basses, with the Harvard Glee Club and Radcliffe Choral Society, G. Wallace Woodworth conductor. At the concert of Saturday evening, July 13, Dr. Munch will conduct three great symphonies of Mozart—in E flat, G minor, and C major ("Jupiter"). Tickets are still available for these two shed concerts at the Tanglewood Box Office, Tanglewood, Lenox, Massachusetts.

Ballet Will Open At Ellenville Music Festival Tonight

Soloists of the Royal Danish Ballet take over the stage of the Empire State Music Festival, Ellenville, for three nights beginning tonight. Three dance bills will be presented, an all Tchaikovsky program tonight includes "Swan Lake," "Design With Strings" and "Aurora's Wedding," with the American premiere of a new work, "Bergensiana," included in a varied program tomorrow and Sunday nights.

The soloists include Inge Sand, who is the artistic director, Kirsten Ralov, Ruth Andersen, Kirsten Petersen, Fredbjorn Bjornsson, Stanley Williams, Verner Andersen and Ole Fatum. Robert Zeller conducts the Symphony of the Air for the ballet.

MR. AND MRS. WILBUR R. SPARROW

Juletta Ann Yapple Is Married To Wilbur R. Sparrow of Kentucky

Juletta Ann Yapple, daughter of Mrs. Jerry Yapple, of 20 Joys Lane and Wilbur Ralph Sparrow, son of Esque Sparrow, of Lawrenceburg, Ky., were married Sunday, June 30 at 2:30 p. m. at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Clyde Herbert Snell, pastor.

Included in the musical selections by Mrs. Clyde H. Snell and M. E. Morette were "O Promise Me, Because and The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Merrill Yapple, wore a gown of white chiffon fashioned with a shirred and molded long torso, long sleeves and a scoop neckline. The full flowing skirt was floor length. The bodice, sleeves and hip line were accented with Venise lace studded with rhinestones. The scalloped French illusion veil was attached to a plateau bridal cap of rose point lace outlined with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white glamelias.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Peter Wojcio of 29 Park street, wore a gown of bud pink chiffon, styled with a shirred and molded long torso, abbreviated sleeves and scoop neckline. Her full skirt was floor length and she wore a crown of starched lace embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins with a circular tulle veil. She carried a cascade of pink glamelias.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary K. Eselby of Lafayette avenue, a cousin of the bride.

Her gown, matched identical in styling to the honor attendant's, was in romance blue. She carried pink glamelias.

The flower girl was Miss Joyce Yapple, niece of the bride. She wore white nylon sheer posed over blue taffeta styled with a fitted bodice, a bertha collar and a bouffant skirt worn over hoops. In her hair was a tiara of flowers. She carried a basket of assorted seasonal flowers.

Robert Abrams of Berea, Ky., was the best man.

The ushers were Frederick Yapple, brother of the bride, and John Ferraro of Glasco.

Jerry Yeaple, nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was held in the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church Epworth Hall.

After a motor tour to Cape Cod, the couple will reside for the present at 20 Joys Lane.

The bride's traveling ensemble was a light blue suit with white accessories.

The bride graduated from Kingston High School in 1949 and the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing, class of 1952. She is a registered nurse employed in the maternity department of Kingston Hospital.

The bridegroom graduated from Western High School, Kentucky and spent three years in the army in Japan and Korea. He is connected with the IBM Kingston plant.

People's Bible Class Set at Vly Chapel

The People's Bible Class of Stone Ridge will meet in The Vly Chapel Saturday at 8 p. m., it was announced by the Rev. O. Phillips, teacher.

The service will consist of special music and a hymn sing. The Rev. Mr. Phillips will preach on the subject, "If I make My Bed in Hell."

Plans will be formulated for a Baptismal service in the near future. All Christians desiring to be baptized by immersion may make arrangements at this service.

St. Patrick was a missionary bishop to Ireland, not a native Irishman.

Marilyn J. Caunitz Howard Burns Wed By Mayor F. H. Stang

Marilyn J. Caunitz of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Caunitz, of 259 Smith avenue and Howard Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mortimer Burns of New York city and Palm Beach, Fla., were married Sunday, June 30, in the garden of the home of Mayor and Mrs. Frederick H. Stang. The double ring ceremony was performed by Mayor Stang.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a gown of white silk organza embroidered in ice blue. She wore a picture hat and carried a nosegay of blue daisies.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Lawrence Burns, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, of Brooklyn was attired in a gown of white eyelet over pale blue. She wore a picture hat and carried a nosegay of pink daisies.

Marion Stang, the flower girl, was dressed in yellow organza. She carried a basket of rose petals and made a path for the bride party.

Lawrence Burns, the bridegroom's brother, of Brooklyn Heights, Brooklyn was best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Onteora Lake, summer home of the bride's parents. Guests included the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom.

After a wedding journey which will include visits to Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks, the couple will make their future home at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The bride is manager of the Martin-Burns Sportables, Ft. Lauderdale.

The bridegroom is associated with his father in the Martin-Burns Inc. chain of men and women's wearing apparel shops in New York and Florida.

New Committees Are Named for 30th Library Fair

Woodstock, July 5—Entertainment galore and fun for the whole family and community are keynoting Woodstock's traditional Library Fair. With the 30th annual Fair less than a month away, plans for the town's most bustling summer event are being whipped rapidly into realization, and another successful fest seems to be in the offing.

Already, natives and visitors alike are talking about the big features of the Great Expectations event. Tickets will be on sale around the village during the 4th of July weekend.

Fair day has been set for Thursday, July 25. If the day dawns rainy, the festivities will be shifted to Friday, July 26. The proceedings will get underway at 12 noon and continue until 6 p. m. Many committees already are hard at work in a bid for a highly successful '57 Fair, and a lengthy list of tables and attractions was announced this week by Mrs. Gordon Taylor, Mrs. Inger Walker, and Mrs. Kenneth E. Martin, over-all Fair chairmen.

Heads of each individual feature include: aprons, Mrs. John Hall and Mrs. Isaac Smallen; art supplies, Mrs. Florine Solomon; badges, Mari Bollman; balloons, Aart Vos; books, Mrs. Herman Oxhandler, Mrs. Gus Schrader and Mrs. Joseph Friedberg; china and glass, Mrs. Charles Cooper; clothing, Mrs. Elizabeth Clough, Mrs. William Gregory and Mrs. Monroe Longendyke; food, Mrs. Charles Klothe and Mrs. Robert Breitenstein, fruits and vegetables, Mrs. Charles King, Mrs. James Kinns, and Mrs. John Majoras; grounds, Elbert Matthews and William Huty; hats, Mrs. Sterling Wolven; crazy hats, Mrs. Rose Garlock; hot dogs, Joe Fornio; jewelry, Mrs. Harvey Emrich; iced tea and sandwiches, Mrs. Peter Singass; children's make-up table, Barbara Monore and Ava Donaldson; publicity, Tobie Geertsema; records, Mrs. Robert Phelps; shoes, Mrs. John Bennett and Mrs. Charles Hughes; shopping bags, Mrs. Anna Nemser; toys, Mrs. Robert Greene, Mrs. Malcolm Rose and Mrs. Edmund Gilligan.

As previously announced, Mrs. Gordon Andersen, Mrs. Berkeley Williams Jr., and Mrs. Telford Graham will head the Great Expectation table.

From dawn to dusk on Fair day, a staff of three will handle the library telephone, answering all questions of information seekers. On this job will be Mrs. Margaret Kenyon, Mrs. Hans Cohn and Mrs. John Carlson. Finally, the Collection Center is in full swing under the chairmanship of Mrs. Henry Robinson and Mrs. Allan Carlson, who ask that all donations be brought directly to the center behind the library every Wednesday from 2 to 5 p. m.

Church Notes

Woodstock, July 5—The Rev. Herald C. Swezy, vicar of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, announces that during July and August all Sunday services will be held at 10 a. m.

The food sale will be held by the Ladies' Guild of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, Saturday, July 6, from 9:30 to 12, on the Guild of Craftsmen terrace. There will also be plant and bridge prize tables.

The visitors' register of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church offers more evidence of how small the world has grown. Since late spring, visitors from far-flung sections of this country and from the following foreign countries have recorded their presence at St. Gregory's: Sao Paulo, Brazil; Quebec, Canada; Rotterdam, the Netherlands; Aberdeen, Scotland; Germany; Auckland, New Zealand; and the Provinces of Alberta and Ontario, Canada.

Children's Workshop Class Starts Monday

Woodstock, July 5—With vacation time, the age-old question from children "What can I do now?" confronts many parents. One happy solution is the Children's Workshop under supervision of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen and directed by Gwen Davies, art instructor at the Dalton School, New York, and well-known to many Woodstockers. Miss Davies' classes for boys and girls, age six to 12, begin Monday, July 8. Classes continue from Mondays through Thursdays from 10 to 12. In these classes, children keep constructively busy and happy learning the elements in a variety of crafts. Parents may register their children through Mrs. Katherine Wangler, Guild Shop manager.

Margaret Wetterau To Manage Galleries

Woodstock, July 5—The Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen announces that Margaret Wetterau, artist, craftsman and crafts instructor, will be in charge of its Guild Galleries for the summer months. The Guild Galleries have grown steadily in prestige and in scope of work exhibited, and constantly more familiar names and more new names are seen in every showing. The works on display are not limited to any period or special school of art. The avant garde may hang next to the classical; thus the wide and popular appeal of the Guild Galleries, fortunate, indeed, to be able to avail themselves of the sympathetic warm and friendly personality of Mrs. Wetterau, with her rich background in the creative field.

The current Guild Gallery showing presents the work of: Dudley Summers, Elizabeth d'Urazais, G. L. Stewart, Henry Laverack, Louise Laverack, Carolyn Haerberlin, Lois Wilcox, Gladys Mitchell, Rodney Lethbridge, Lucie Bayard, Florence Elgar, Helen Bauer, Manuel Komroff, John McClellan, Mal Slonin, Eugene McEvoy, Mollie Higgins, Elizabeth Woiceske, Frieda Mangels, Hazel McGraw, Peggy Dodds, M. A. Hillman, Valerie Swenson, Maxwell Houghland, John Pike, Anton Otto Fischer, Eleanor Edwards, Tomas Penning, Konrad Cramer, Helen Shotwell, Robert Angelech, Madeline Wiltz, Earle Winslow, Gojia Webster, Sam Wylie, Zulman Parker, William Wingate, Gertrude Mandel, Mark Vukovic, Nancy Summers, Henry Hohnhorst, Richard Chambers, B. Sturtevant Gardner and Elfriede Borkmann.

From July 1, both the Guild Galleries and the Guild Shop will be open daily from 10:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Boy Scout News

Woodstock, July 5—The final pack meeting for the summer of Cub Scout Pack 34 was held recently at the Andy Lee Memorial Field. The meeting was opened by the flag ceremony with Robbie Walker holding the American flag, and Terry Breitenstein the troop flag. Allen Combs and Chris Matthews were color guards. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Richard Rudisill; the Cub Scouts Promise led by Gregg Carlson; and the laws of the Pack led by Charles Strickland and said by all the Cubs.

The following awards were given to troop members by Milton Combs: Wolf Badge—Richard Rudisill, Richard Parks; Gold and Silver arrow on Wolf Badge—Michael Fischer; Lion Badge—Robert Gordon; 2 Silver and 1 Gold arrow on Lion Badge—Robert Gordon.

Adult registration cards and Cub Scout registration cards were given to each committee member, den mother, cub master, assistant cub masters and Cub Scouts for the coming year. Cub Scout Pack 34 was given a banner for having 100 per cent subscription for Boys Life Magazine.

The Charter for the coming year was presented by Robert Sperring, of the Square Club, to Robert Gordon, committee chairman of Cub Scout Pack 34. Songs were sung by the Cub Scouts, led by Bobby Strickland. At the close of the meeting the den mothers were presented with a special token of appreciation for their work, by Cub Master John Majoras.

Holumzer Elected School Board Head

Woodstock, July 5—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Zena School District No. 7, Tuesday night, Albert Holumzer was elected chairman of the board. The other members of the board are Vern May and Joseph McNelis.

A resolution was passed, with Mr. McNelis and Mr. May voting yes, and Mr. Holumzer, no, that effective July 2, 1957, no further request for tuition to other districts will be honored for pupils in the Zena School district for grades kindergarten through four until the capacity of the Zena School has been exceeded.

In 1956 it was voted that the fifth and sixth grade children would be sent to Kingston, and in 1955 the seventh and eighth grade students went to Kingston.

Village Notes

Woodstock, July 5—Mrs. Ian Vance of Willow, who entered

Kingston Hospital Friday, is expected to return to her home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Allen are the parents of a son, Donald Victor, born June 25 at Kingston Hospital.

at the time. Our advisories speak for themselves."

In its 10 a. m. advisory of June 26, the day before the tragic hurricane struck the mainland, the weather bureau predicted the center would move inland late the next day, then added:

"However, due to the size of the hurricane gales will start along the Louisiana coast tonight. Tides are rising and will reach five to eight feet. . . . All persons in low exposed places should move to higher ground."

At 10 p. m. that night, the advisory said the hurricane was 235 miles south of Lake Charles, or 200 miles off the coast, with gales extending out 200 miles.

During that period in New York state there were 49 fatal accidents, 30 in traffic, 7 drownings and 12 other causes.

Denies Candidacy On Democratic Rosendale Ticket

An announced candidate on the Democratic slate for Rosendale Town Board today denied that he was on the ticket and another declined to run.

Early this week Joseph Reid, Rosendale Democratic Town chairman announced his slate of proposed candidates which included John J. Welch, area construction contractor for superintendent of highways and Fred Sauer, organizer of Bloomington Fire Company as tax collector.

Never Ran for Office

Mr. Welch told The Freeman this morning, "I have never run for any political office and I never intend to. I can't understand how my name was proposed on the slate. I have no ambitions to be town superintendent of highways."

It was also reported to The Freeman that other candidates announced on the ticket were reluctant to run. Frederick F. Sauer proposed for the candidacy of tax collector refused to run and Mr. Reid told The Freeman that Mr. Sauer refused the candidacy due to recent ill health.

Despite a report that attempts will be made by Town of Rosendale Democrats to draft Mr. Sauer, he told The Freeman this morning, "I gave no one permission to use my name, nor have I at any time stated that I would seek any political office."

Mr. Sauer, active in firemanic affairs, serves as president of Bloomington Fire Company. He was the charter president.

Some Not Asked

William P. Curran, Rosendale attorney announced candidate for justice of the peace said it was possible that some of the proposed candidates had not been asked if they would accept the candidacy. He also explained that the names announced were not actually candidates but just names to be proposed to the Democratic caucus.

Shortly before press time Mr. Reid told The Freeman that Knute Bakke, a tugboat engineer would replace Mr. Welch as a possible candidate for town superintendent of highways.

Delegates to the Democratic convention will be designated this evening at a meeting in Reid's Hotel, Rosendale at 8 o'clock.

blaze to the upper floor. Damage to machinery on the first floor was lessened due to the fact that a couple of motors had been removed for repairs.

Members of the Esopus Fire Department assisted by the Port Ewen Fire Department fought the blaze under the direction of Chief Ed Mains of the Port Ewen Department and Chief Harry Mains of the Esopus Department.

Firemen Called Back

Firemen were called back to the fire Thursday evening and again today when fire broke out behind the cork insulation. The fire was difficult to fight due to the insulation cork which is used in this type of construction.

There was also a fire in Sawkill where early Thursday morning fire was discovered in an unoccupied house near the Sawkill church. The house was formerly occupied by Thomas Brophy but has not been occupied for some time. Several minor fires have been extinguished in the house in the past.

clear and that intersections are not blocked in case of an actual emergency. Drivers of pleasure cars will be requested to leave their vehicles, taking their keys with them, and to take shelter wherever shelter is available. Otherwise they will be directed to remain in their vehicles and open all windows. Drivers and passengers in buses and commercial vehicles will be permitted to remain therein but drivers will be directed to open all windows.

Some Exceptions

Police and fire vehicles, U. S. Mail, ambulances, vehicles of doctors and members of the clergy, public utility vehicles, and all other emergency vehicles responding to an actual emergency in the line of duty are excepted from the provisions of this directive and will be permitted free passage to their destinations.

Vehicles on emergency work locations should not be left unattended during the 13 minute "Take Cover" period, including emergency crews working at telephone, electric, water or sewer locations. Therefore, one man from each such vehicle or work crew shall be exempt from seeking shelter during this period. He shall remain with his emergency vehicle or work location and all other members of such vehicles or crews shall seek shelter wherever it may be available or stand behind some substantial object.

Airplanes in the air will be permitted to land. Airplanes on the ground will remain until test is concluded.

Must Take Shelter

All pedestrians shall be directed to take shelter in stores, public buildings, and in places other than private residences, or in establishments where such congregating would seriously interfere with the business thereof. Where no shelter is available, they will be required to stand close to any object, such as a tree, stone wall, etc., but they will not be required to lie down on the ground as would be necessary in an actual enemy attack.

Traffic will not be stopped and trains will run on schedule. Travelers who are at railroad stations will be permitted to board trains arriving during the "Take Cover" period. Elsewhere, all travelers will be required to obey shelter regulations.

Because of the nature of their duties, regular police and properly identified auxiliary police and wardens who must enforce these regulations shall not take shelter.

Although students are on vacations, in some instances summer sessions and recreational programs will be in operation. Upon hearing the "Take Cover" signal, all activity will cease, and everyone will proceed to the nearest available shelter, and remain there for a 13-minute period.

went upon the Cornell Park sidewalk, turning over on its left side.

A report at 10:50 p. m. Wednesday said the sedan of Ruth Beesmer, RD 4, Box 292, Kingston, operated by Burton Beesmer, of the same address, headed south on Broadway, struck a sedan owned and operated by Jean B. Harvey, 46, of 396 Broadway, as the latter, was attempting to turn into Andrews street.

The driver of the car, which was hit, police said, had stopped to let another vehicle come out of Andrews street.

Rosemary Pelligrino, of 396 Broadway, who was riding in the Harvey car, suffered a bump on the forehead, police said. Officers Floyd Krom and Bruce Clarke investigated.

The accident at Washington and Hurley avenue was reported at 11:15 p. m., Thursday.

Police said William A. Krum, 47, of 39 Mary's avenue, owner and operator of a sedan headed south on Washington avenue, suffered a back injury. A former local patrolman and detective, he is now a thruway toll collector.

The other car, owned by Styles Express, and driven by Wesley Styles, 19, of 85 Downs street, had stopped for a light at the intersection, the report said.

great brushfire on a mountain rimming the Yucca flat test site.

The mountain fires were several miles from the explosion site. The fires appeared to cover several square miles.

There were two major burning areas and dots of fire higher up on the slopes.

The marines reported some cave-ins in their trenches. Their telephone message to news nobs said:

"Everything seems to be all right."

25,000 Cement

Marquet Cement Manufacturing Co., operator of 10 plants, which agreed to a 16-cent package for 2,000 employees at eight plants where contracts with the cement workers had expired.

About one third of the cement industry is unaffected by the strike. Most of this segment has production units represented by other unions, and some plants employing members of the cement workers union have contracts which still have time to run.

Expired in May

The bulk of the union's contracts expired in May.

The cement workers received backing in their strike from George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, who wrote to Felix Jones, president of the union that the cement industry is "one of the most profitable in the nation" and "can well afford to grant the reasonable concessions you are seeking."

Initial effects of the strike appeared in the east where railroads serving the Lehigh Valley of Pennsylvania, where one tenth of the nation's cement production is concentrated, reported a fall-off of carloadings, and contractors reported inability to get cement.

A halt in construction was expected on the Schuylkill Expressway, a freeway under construction in Pennsylvania, and construction at U. S. Air Force bases in Florida was reported threatened.

plosion, the marines climbed out of their trenches and removed their gas masks.

Then they headed for a loading zone.

Move in on 'Enemy'

A great flock of helicopters whirled in from their base behind news noob. Amphibious tractors swarmed into the loading area. The copters picked up 886 marines and the tractors took 204 aboard.

Then they moved into an area theoretically held by an enemy which had been blasted with an atom bomb.

The marines' mission was to seize, consolidate and defend this objective.

With the marines in the trenches were 400 military observers, including an advance party of Canadians who will participate later in the series.

Approximately 136 aircraft participated in the test.

World News in Brief

Peiping Okays Purge

Hong Kong, July 5 (AP)—Red China gave full approval and support today to the Soviet Union's purge of leading Communists, Peiping radio reported.

The Chinese Communist party said the Kremlin purge would "help to further the unity and consolidation of the Communist party of the Soviet Union," the broadcast added.

Wheat Crop Hit

Kansas City, July 5 (AP)—Heavy harvest rains have dealt a low blow to the nation's breadbasket, and it could be a stunning one for the farmer.

Kansas may produce 50 million bushels less than last year. The same gloom situation, in a lesser degree, appears true for Texas and Oklahoma.

But what effect the adverse weather will have on the price of wheat nationally remains to be seen. Agriculture Department officials in Washington said they expect no sharp increases. About 900 million bushels from past crops now on hand is more than enough to absorb the blow, they said.

Girard, Candy Wed

Camp Whittington, Japan.

July 5 (AP)—GI William S. Girard and the Japanese girl who offered to serve any prison term he might be given were married again today in a simple church ceremony.

"This is a very happy event," the smiling, 21-year-old soldier said after the Methodist rites in Camp Whittington's small white chapel. "I only wish my mother and brother were here."

His 27-year-old bride, Haru (Candy) Sueyama, said in English into a microphone: "Thank you very much."

B and K Move Out

Moscow, July 5 (AP)—Having cleaned the last of their Stalinist opposition out of the Kremlin, Premier Bulganin and Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev packed their bags today for a trip to Czechoslovakia.

Meanwhile Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan, the first top Soviet official to talk to westerners since the announcement of the high level shakeup, said the changes were a victory for the forces of "peace, friendship and coexistence."

St. Joseph's Nine Beats Rosendale

St. Joseph's of Kingston defeated St. Peter's of Rosendale, 11 to 5, in the CYO Midget baseball league, racking up 15 hits behind Dan Van Wagenen's two-hitter.

Van Wagenen fanned nine to offset 13 walks, while St. Joseph's scored in five of their seven turns at bat against Eineman. He also hit a single and double.

Jim Rua clouted three singles for St. Joseph's. Rich Whitaker had a single and triple; Tom Ashdown two singles and Frank Brown had a pair of solo swats.

More Pitching Seen for Indians

Reading, Pa. — (NEA) — Joe Bedenk, Penn State coach, predicts that Cleveland, long on pitching for years, has more of it in Eddie Drapcho.

The 22-year-old left-hander has reported to the Indians' Reading farm in the Eastern League.

Drapcho was unbeaten in his last season. He lost only three times in as many seasons winning 29, including a no-hitter in 1956. In 1957, he struck out 116 in 12 games, bringing his three-year mark to 298. His high was 19 in '56. His earned-run average for three campaigns was 1.48. He averaged 9.4 strikeouts, 2 bases on balls.

At 5 feet, 10 inches and 165 pounds, Drapcho is considered small in some quarters. "His curve is tricky, his fast ball more than adequate," says Coach Bedenk, "but what places him above the crowd is his ability to think clearly under pressure."

Still in Town

Rochester, N. Y. (NEA) — When the Royals transferred their National Basketball Association franchise to Cincinnati, it didn't mean the end of Dick Ricketts, 6-7 former Duquesne star, for Rochester fans. Ricketts is the ace pitcher for the Red Wings of the International League.

UNWELCOMED VISITOR—At Somagahara, Japan, Mrs. William Girard, the Japanese wife of U. S. Army Specialist 3/c William Girard, is denied entrance as she visits the family of the woman her husband is charged with shooting to death. Mrs. Girard wanted to visit the grave of the slain woman, but the eldest daughter of the Sakai family, Kayoko (left), 18, said, "I don't understand how you can have the nerve to come here after marrying Girard, who is such a hateful person." PAPAL ANNIVERSARY MEDALLION — Issued by the Vatican mint, this silver medallion commemorates Pope Pius XII's 19th year as Pontiff. On the obverse side is a profile of the Pope with the Latin inscription: "Supreme Pontiff Pius XII in (his) 19th year." On the reverse side is the figure of Pope Innocent XI, who was beatified under Pius XII. The Latin inscription reads: "Innocent XI, elevated to the glory of the altars by Pope Pius XII, Oct. 7, 1956."

GROWING APPETITE—The nation's appetite has increased as a result of the population boom and the American farmer is working to meet the demand. Newschart shows several typical food items and the percentage of increase in consumption in 1954-56, as compared with 1948-50. Despite the 2½ to 3 million increase in population each year, however, markets for some products have been shrinking.

SAVED THEIR PENNIES—Richard D. Gamma, 21, and Elva Mae Cox, his 18-year-old fiancée, have literally been saving their pennies in order to buy a marriage license. Over a period of 7 months and 27 days they amassed 363 pennies. The license cost $3.60, so they paid the clerk, right, at the Little Rock, Ark., courthouse for the license and used the extra three cents for the parking meter.

Two Men Missing In Rail Crash

Edenton, N. C., July 5 (AP)—Two diesel engines and the front cars of a freight train crashed through a 5.1-mile railroad trestle spanning Albemarle Sound early today. Three crewmen were rescued and two others were reported missing.

The first survivor found clinging to the pilings of the bridge which spans the sound from Mackey to Edenton gave directions which led to the finding of two other crewmen.

J. C. Poe, general superintendent of the Norfolk Southern Railway, said in Raleigh two men were missing: S. R. Bray of Raleigh and W. M. Munden of Norfolk, Va.

Poe added that progress in clearing the wreckage was slow and that the cause of the trestle's collapse was undetermined.

Locke Leads Open

St. Andrews, Scotland, July 5 (AP)—Bobby Locke, South Africa's mufin-faced master of the putting greens, shot into the lead in the British Open golf championship today with a superb 68 on the third round as America's two challengers, Cary Middlecoff and Frank Stranahan, faded from contention with a pair of 74s. Locke, 39 years old and winner of the British Open in 1949, 1950 and 1952, went into the final round this afternoon with a 54-hole total of 209 and a three-stroke lead over defending champion Peter Thomson of Australia and Eric Brown of Scotland, who led after yesterday's second round.

Hiking Grandmother Walking Trail Again

Hagerstown, Md., July 5 (AP)—Mrs. Emma Gatewood, 69-year-old hiking great-grandmother from Gallipolis, Ohio, is out to conquer the Appalachian Trail again.

She did it once before in 1955, walking the 2,050 miles from Mt. Oglethorpe, Ga., to Mt. Katahdin, Maine in 146 days. She wore out seven pairs of shoes and lost 30 pounds while averaging about 14 miles a day.

When Mrs. Gatewood finished the hike in September, 1955 to become the first woman to walk the entire trail, she said she had all the walking she wanted "for a long time."

Now, less than 22 months later, she's retracing her steps. She spent last night at Washington Monument State Park, about 10 miles south of this western Maryland city.

Mrs. Gatewood left Mt. Oglethorpe on April 27. After 69 days she has covered almost 1,000 miles and is now wearing out her third pair of shoes. She said she is not trying to break her previous record but is merely making the trip again because she enjoyed the last one so much.

The spry hiker should have lots of family support in her second attempt at the trail. She has 11 children, 25 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Saugerties Blanks Poughkeepsie, 3-0, on Mains' 6-Hitter

Port Ewen Ace Scores Win Against Russ Ruge

The Saugerties Dutchmen have established themselves as strong contenders for the New York-New Jersey League pennant following Thursday's brilliant 3-0 victory over the Poughkeepsie Elks.

They may or may not win the pennant in the torrid race now unfolding but, come the end of the 1957 campaign, they might reasonably claim the best pitcher in the ten-team league.

Veteran Clark Mains notched his fourth victory in the 4th of July contest at Cantine Field and the manner in which he subdued Russ Ruge and the Bridge City nine was nothing less than classic. He didn't walk a batter and struck out seven.

Mains, who permitted only six hits as the Dutchmen put their record at 5 and 3, was working on a 3-0 shutout in the eighth when the Elks slammed three straight singles to load the bases with none out.

The former Kingston High star and New York Giant minor league ace came through the crucible with remarkable alacrity. He got the first out on a force play at the plate, struck out the next batter and induced the third to hit a soft liner to Bob Schaffer. That was the one and only threat offered by Poughkeepsie through the long, hot afternoon.

Schaffer knocked in two runs for the last putout in the threat, had drilled home a pair of runs in the Saugerties fifth. Don McCaig launched the rally with a single. Hubie Barber beat out a perfect bunt. Ruge wild-pitched the two runners up a notch and Schaffer delivered a clean single to center.

The Dutchmen collected nine hits off Ruge, the Rhinebeck flinger who compiled an excellent record with Rider College this spring.

Bob McKenna, the usually reliable shortstop got Ruge in a jam in the fourth inning but only one run resulted after considerable confusion. It started with Joe Martin's double. McKenna first booted Jim Meadlock's ground ball and then failed to touch second on Don Whitaker's grounder. The latter reached first to load the bases. Martin crossed on Miller's slow infield roller.

The top of the batting order did heavy duty for Saugerties. McCaig, Barber and Schaffer getting two hits apiece. Martin's double was the only extra base in the game.

MRS. A. J. de LISIO

Mrs. Anthony J. (Wiggie) de Lisio of Woodstock Country Club will be one of the few mid-Hudson representatives in the 28th annual New York State Women's Amateur golf championships at Briar Hall Golf and Country Club at Briarcliff Manor.

Mrs. de Lisio, 1956 women's champion at Woodstock Country Club, will compete in the 18 hole qualifying rounds on Monday and Tuesday, July 9-10. The sixteen low scorers start match play for the title now held by Miss Naomi Venable of Poughkeepsie on Thursday. Miss Venable has announced she will not defend the crown.

Mrs. de Lisio has been hitting the ball well in practice rounds and this will be her first bid for the state title.

Balked by Darvak

Fiore Has 1-Hitter

A sixth-inning double by Jack Darvak of the Canfield Supply Tigers balked Tom Fiore's bid for a no-hitter in the National Little League. Fiore's Shults Paint Indians whipped the Tigers, 3 to 1 for their first win in the second half.

Fiore struck out 13 Tigers and walked six. The Indians picked up nine hits off Lonnie McAndrew and Herb Wolff. The big blow was Larry Marcus' double during a three-run rally in the third. Marcus, Vince Fisher and Sheldon Brown each had two hits for the Tribe.

Mike Bruhn To Head Field At Wiltwyck CC

Thirty five of the area's best teen age golfers, including defending champion, Mike Bruhn of The Twaalfskill Club in the under-15 division, are scheduled to tee off in the second annual New York State Elks Junior qualifying round Monday, July 8, at 9 a. m.

The four low scorers in two divisions will qualify for the state championships here a week later, according to Primo Montafia, local chairman.

Bruhn will defend the title he won last year at Elmira.

Twaalfskill Heads List

The incomplete entry list shows 18 players entered from The Twaalfskill, 10 from Woodstock Country Club and seven form Wiltwyck Country Club. These totals are expected to be higher by tee off time.

Competing against Bruhn in the under-15 bracket are five Twaalfskill golfers: Richard Barthel, John St. Dennis, Bill Huber, Ronald Riggins and John Lewis.

The under-15 contingent at Woodstock includes Drew Elwyn, Danny Perlman, Allen Waterous, Jay Gordon, John Knutson and Lewis Berryann. Wiltwyck has four entries to date in this group, including William (Buzzy) Costello, Lauren Beaver, Robert Reardon and Henry Langley.

Strong 15-18 Field

The 15 to 18 bracket is headed by a dozen Twaalfskill swingers, among them Richard Marcus, Vincent Montafia, Bob Geszez, Walter Scharpf, Thomas Oulaf, Fred Barthel, Richard Diers, Ray Conlin, Ronnie Goldleaf, Bob Denton, Ed Van Riel and Ted Bruhn.

Dennis Beaver, David Eyles and Ken Yates will represent Wiltwyck in the senior division. Woodstock will have four representatives—Tom McCrosson, Bruce Gordon, Joe Furey and Herb Vogel.

Competition will be in four divisions—for boys and girls under 15 and over 15, but under 18 years of age.

Middlecoff's Chances Slim In British Open

St. Andrews, Scotland, July 5 (AP)—Cary Middlecoff's hopes of winning the British Open golf championship faded badly on the third round today as he shot a two-over-par 74 on the third round for a 54-hole total of 217.

Going into the final round this afternoon, the two-time American open champion from Memphis, Tenn., had only the slenderest chance of coming back enough to win.

While Middlecoff was having his troubles on the big putting greens of the St. Andrews old course, South Africa's Bobby Locke, who has won the British Open three times in the past, was moving up rapidly and threatening to take the lead from the players who set the pace through the first two rounds.

Locke Six Under

Locke, two strokes behind the leader, Eric Brown of Scotland, with 141 after 36 holes, was six under par after eleven holes of the third round. He went out in 33, then shot an eagle two on the tenth and a birdie three on the eleventh.

Par for the 6,996-yard Old Course is 36-36-72.

Leaders among the early finishers ahead of Middlecoff were Tom Halliburton of England and Angel Miguel of Spain, with 54-hole totals of 213.

Frank Stranahan, wealthy Toledo, Ohio, professional, also took a 74 on the third round and was two strokes behind Middlecoff at 219.

Middlecoff birdied the 338-yard tenth, but he slipped over par on the 11th and 13th holes and was one over for 13.

Locke meanwhile reached the turn in 33, three under par, with birdies on the first, fifth and sixth holes. Argentina's Antonio Cerda, tied for fifth after yesterday with 142, also went out in 33.

If Tradition Holds Up

Yankees and Redlegs Headed for Pennants

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

It'll be a Yankee-Redleg World Series—and look out for flying glass—if baseball's Independence Day tradition holds up in '57.

Tradition says the teams leading the pennant races on July 4 go on to a meeting in the Series about six times out of 10. That being the case, steel yourselves for what could be the most explosive fall classic since bat first met ball with New York's Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra & Co. matching toe-holds with Cincinnati's musclemen.

The Yanks, who make it a habit, passed the July 4 milestone three games in front of the Chicago White Sox, a half game less than their AL lead a year ago when they won by nine.

National League July 4 leaders, over the same period, have held on to win 33 times for a .589 percentage but few have been involved in the kind of scramble the senior league has underway.

It is a shaky Cincinnati lead at best, with the Redlegs a half game and four percentage points up on St. Louis, a half game and six point up on Milwaukee, 2 1/2 in front of Brooklyn and 3 in front of Philadelphia.

Last year, tradition faltered in the face of a similar NL battle. Milwaukee then led Cincinnati by five percentage points with Brooklyn 'way back in third, a half game off the pace. But it was the Dodgers picking up the World Series by a game from the Braves and two from the Redlegs.

Braves Beat Reds

The margin between first and fifth in the NL was clipped by 1 1/2 games in Thursday's big holiday program as Milwaukee battered the Redlegs, 10-7 in a single game and the other four contenders moved up.

St. Louis edged Chicago 4-3 after the Cubs' two-run rally in the ninth had won the opener, 7-6. Brooklyn won its second game, 8-2 from Pittsburgh after losing the first, 5-1. The Phillies showed a 1 1/2 gain, sweeping New York 2-1 and 6-2.

In the AL, three doubleheaders were split. The Yanks won 4-1 after losing to Boston, 3-2 on Mickey Vernon's two-out, two-run pinch homer in the ninth. Chicago thrashed Kansas City 8-3 after the A's rallied for five in the ninth for a 5-4 first game victory. Cleveland stopped Detroit 3-1 on Earl Wynn's three-hitter, then lost 4-3. Baltimore won a single game, 3-2 over Washington in 11 innings.

Singles by Bill Bruton and Red Schoendienst drove in the tying and winning runs in a four-run Milwaukee eighth, costing Redleg reliever Bud Freeman his first loss. Hank Aaron helped Gene Conley with his 26th homer, two doubles and three RBIs. George Crowe drove in six for Cincinnati with five hits, including his 17th and 18th homers.

Cubs Nip Cards

Chicago edged the Cards on ninth-inning pinch hits by Bob Speake and Jim Bolger in the opener but Sam Jones saved the nightcap for St. Louis, pitching a six-hitter and driving in the deciding run.

Charlie Neal and Duke Snider combined for five RBIs behind Don Newcombe for the Dodgers after the Pirates' Bob Friend had seven-hit the Brooklyn in the first game.

Left-handers Harvey Haddix, winning his seventh, and Curt Simmons, now 8-4, did the job for the Phils although Simmons needed help from Dick Farrell in the ninth after a two-hit show for eight innings.

Vernon's dramatic homer off Yankee reliever Bob Grim followed Frank Malzone's single and, giving Dave Sisler his fifth straight over New York in two games, ended the Yanks win streak at seven. Don Larsen's five-hitter controlled the second game.

Hoad Wins Again

Wimbledon, England, July 5 (AP)—Power-hitting Lew Hoad of Australia trounced his countryman, Ashley Cooper, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2, today to win the All-England Lawn Tennis championship for the second straight year. The 22-year-old Hoad became the first player ever to win the Wimbledon title two straight years since America's Don Budge accomplished the feat in 1937 and 1938.

Chez Emile Takes Lead Boyce Pitches Shutout

Topples P&G From 1st Place With 2-0 Win

Frank Boyce, one of the city's premier softball twirlers, pitched Hilltop Rest to a 2-0 victory over Pat and George's knocking the P&G combine from their top perch in the City Softball League.

Chez Emile, idle because of a postponement with Shannon's, moved into first place, a half game ahead of P&G with a record of 8 wins and 4 losses.

In other games, Prospect Dairy whipped Miron Lumber, 6 to 3, and Subway Grill toppled Wimpy's, 8 to 4.

Miron Lumber	8	6
Prospect Dairy	7	7
Hilltop Rest	7	6
Shannon's	6	6
Subway Grill	6	8
Wimpy's Grill	3	12

Hurls 4-Hitter
Boyce limited P&G to four hits to gain the verdict over Frank Couland, who gave up seven hits. The two Hilltop runs were scored in the fifth inning.

Subway Grill backed Al Hunt's seven-hit pitching with a seven-run explosion in the second inning to trip Wimpy's. The Grillmen scored their four runs in the fourth with a rally featured by Jake Smith's home run. Tony Musto cracked a homer for Subway and Les Barringer started with three doubles.

Amato of Prospects checked Miron Lumber on four hits, one a homer by Bob Casella. The winners collected five off Mike Boyle, including three singles in three trips by Bill Slover.

Mrs. Dendy Captures Flag Tourney at Woodstock CC

Mrs. Helen Dendy, the women's golf chairman at Woodstock Country Club, finished 19 feet from the pin on the ninth hole to capture the Flag tournament played as part of ladies day at the village links.

Second place went to Mrs. Wiggie deLisio, who finished 25 feet from the 9th pin with her allotment of handicap strokes. Mrs. Kathleen Elwyn won low putts honor with 32 for 18 holes.

Mrs. Adelaide Fogel and Mrs. Marguerite Cantine tied for low putts honors in the nine-hole division. Mrs. Doris McClellan won the blind hole prize in the nine-hole tournament.

Mrs. deLisio took low net honors with 72. She grossed 80 and had eight handicap. Other net scores included: Mrs. Frederick P. Platt, 113-35-78; Mrs. Myrtle Zimmer, 104-28-76; Mrs. Barbara Forno, 112-38-74; Mrs. Betty Schwartz, 122-44-78; Mrs. Edith Heckerth, 112-36-76; Mrs. Kathleen Elwyn, 98-17-81; Mrs. Helen Dendy, 96-23-73; Mrs. Louise Fitzsimmons, 106-30-76; Mrs. Alice Marr, 111-28-83.

A kicker's tournament is planned next Tuesday for all players who do not compete in the Twaalfskill Invitational.

Mrs. Whitmore Cards Low
Gross 98 at Wiltwyck CC

Mrs. Ivan Whitmore posted a 98 to take low gross honors in the medal handicap tournament for Wiltwyck Country Club women on Wednesday.

First low net prize went to Mrs. George Rifenburg with 101-28-73. Mrs. Robert Carrington won second prize in the net division with 109-35-74.

Yup, It Was Skiing
On the 4th of July

Lake Placid, July 5 (AP)—Art Tokle of Chicago is the winner of the 10th annual Fourth of July ski-jumping meet.

Tokle scored 140.8 points on distance and form, the best among 10 who took part before 3,000 spectators in 80-degree weather.

The snow had been stored in an ice house since February and spread by machine.

Forst Cards 23
Net to Capture
Golf Tournament

Charles Forst posted a net 23 with handicap to win first prize in the "best-9-holes" tournament Thursday at the Woodstock Country Club.

The tournament was a "surprise" event, with the method of scoring revealed after all players were in.

Second place was won by Clayton Harder with a net 26. Tied at 26 were George Qualle, Tim Cronin and Leon Forst. Locked in a three-way tie with net 27s were Harold Mellin, Frank McCahill and George Svirsky.

Van Aken Cards 71
Harold Van Aken captured low gross honors with 71 on nines of 38-33. His three handicap also gave him low net in regular competition at 68.

Other leading scores included: Harry Byrnes, 35-37-72; Henry (Bud) Leininger, 37-36-73; Bill Marks, 39-40-79; George Qualle, 36-39-75; Allen Waterous, 37-38-75; Herb Waterous, 40-38-78; Bill Van Aken, 38-36-74; Harold Dungey, 36-40-76; Deanie Elwyn, 41-38-79.

The annual Warren Townley Memorial tournament is scheduled Saturday and Sunday at the village links. This is a 36-hole test with 18 holes played each day.

Penn State Records Fall
Bill Hess, an all-America candidate, now possesses every Penn State lacrosse scoring record. His nine goals against Pennsylvania set a single-game record, and his season total of 49 was eight better than his own record set last year.

Racing Muddle
Still Prevails
At Yonkers Track

Yonkers, July 5 (AP)—There will be harness racing tonight at Yonkers Raceway, but Saturday's card still is uncertain.

Martin Tanenbaum, president of the track, has promised that a definite decision on whether there will be racing Saturday night will be announced Saturday morning.

Meantime the track, faced with a dearth of horses as the result of its controversy with the Standardbred Owners Assn. (SOA) announced today it will close Goshen's mile track which has been used as a training base.

Tanenbaum said all facilities at Goshen's Good Time track, where the Hambletonian was held for many years, will be shut down following the end of the meeting at Goshen's Historic Track today.

The Goshen Mile track was opened as a training base early this year by the Raceway. A number of trainers have used it to condition their two and three-year olds.

Tanenbaum said all horsemen with horses stabled at Good Time are being advised that their stables will be welcomed at Yonkers Raceway.

Lou Linn Hurls No-Hitter In Esopus Legion League

Lou Linn pitched a no-hitter for the league-leading Yankees of the Esopus Legion Little League, striking out 11 as the Yanks drubbed the Indians, 10-4, for their fourth win in five games.

The Indian markers were the results of walks (Linn issued nine) and Yankee errors. Yankees, meanwhile, were able to convert two hits into 10 runs, including four in the sixth inning.

Martinez 2-1
To Beat Moore

Washington, July 5 (AP)—Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, gets a chance to make up for one of his few defeats when he goes against Panama's Isidro Martinez tonight.

Moore has lost only five of 30 bouts, but one of those setbacks was to Martinez two years ago at Colon, Isidro's home town.

Although Davey has gained stature in the meantime, the 22-year-old Martinez—with quite a capital following—was about a 2-1 favorite to win again.

REMEMBER THE "HAIRCUT BY BOWL" DAYS

Kingston, N. Y., July 5—When today's older men were boys, a good many fathers cut their hair by placing a bowl over their son's head, then cutting the hair to the bowl's edge.

Today daddy doesn't have time to cut hair and mommy takes junior to the barber shop. But, now that school is out and vacations are here, it seems like dad is bringing junior for a haircut and staying for one himself.

On Friday and Saturday, we have 3 BARBERS ON DUTY so that father and son can have their haircut at the same time. (Friday 'til 8 p. m. and Saturday 'til 5:45.)

Normal Temperatures Due Next Five Days

Albany, N. Y., July 5 (P)—The extended weather forecasts for New York state, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today to 7 p. m. Wednesday.

Eastern New York—Temperatures during the 5-day period, Friday evening through Wednesday, will average near or just under normal levels. Cooler and less humid Saturday, somewhat warmer Sunday and Monday, and Wednesday. Precipitation will average one-half inch or so, occurring as showers early next week.

Western New York—Comparatively cool, comfortable weather is expected with temperatures averaging a few degrees below normal. Cool Saturday, warmer Sunday and Monday, turning cooler Tuesday and Wednesday. Generally fair throughout, except for a few periods of scattered showers or thundershowers Sunday through Tuesday. Total precipitation averaging one-half to three-quarters inch.

Temperature normals—Normal temperatures over upstate New York now range from a daily high value in the upper 70s and low 80s, to overnight lows in upper 50s and low 60s.

Overhead Problems

New York (P)—Getting a show off the ground poses special problems for a band of struggling off-Broadway players called the Airline Theater Wing. The group, made up of airlines' sales personnel, recently staged its first show, a musical revue called "Without Reservation." Three days before the opening, hasty replacement had to be found for the male lead, a technician, and a writer. The originals had suddenly been transferred to far distant airports by the urgencies of the aviation age.

Second to Cotton

Among the basic raw materials classed as fibers, jute is second only to cotton in world consumption, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Promoted

PLATO M. COUNJERIS

Robert Hall Clothes has announced the promotion of Plato M. Counjeris to the position of assistant manager of the Robert Hall salesroom at Albany Post Road and Croftus Corner in Poughkeepsie. Mr. Counjeris, who is a graduate of Notre Dame and a veteran of the U. S. Army, joined the Robert Hall organization in February, 1957, when he was selected as a qualified candidate for the firm's "Rapid Advancement" executive training program... a unique progressive system set up by the clothing chain which offers rapid promotion to young men of ability. Mr. Counjeris, previously with the Robert Hall store in Newburgh, is married and the father of two children.

Part-time Workers Do More Housework

Ithaca, N. Y., July 5 (P)—Who does more housework—the woman who works part-time away from home or the little lady who stays home full-time?

Two home economics teachers at Cornell University say it's the part-time worker who generally does more housework.

Those who hold full-time jobs, the researchers say, carry nearly half the home-work load.

So what does the homemaker do with all that time on her hands?

The researchers—Prof. Marjorie Knoll and Dr. Jean Davis of the State College of Home Economics—said in a report released Wednesday that the woman at home keeps busy.

She's home more because more of her children are 14 or younger.

This intelligence was based on questions asked 187 women who live in the city of Cortland and adjacent rural areas.

Time to Overhaul

Regular overhauling of a locomotive is considered necessary after every 60,000 miles; of a truck, after every 20,000 miles; of aircraft, after every 30,000 miles.
